LABOR BILL SET TO PASS BY TOMORROW

House Ready for Vote on Union-Curbing Measure Possibly Today.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—The house rolled its potent union-strike curb bill into position for passage today.

Some technicality could prevent a final vote before tomorrow.

But Chairman Hartley (R-NY), of the labor committee, in command of the bill, offered to bet a new hat that the house would approve it by late afternoon. The senate may get down to action on its own, softer measure next week. An eventual compromise will have to be worked out.

The house bill got over three big humps yesterday when the house refused to:

Outlaw the union shop, which lets an employer hire anybody but requires new workers to join the union later.

Permit industry-wide collective bargaining on a nation scale. Company-wide dickering by unions would be permitted.

Lift a ban on employer donations to welfare and health funds controlled by unions.

This was the general picture:

1. Rep. Arends (R-Ill), the party whip in charge of lining up votes, told a reporter a complete check showed 22 out of 245 Republicans planned to ballot against the bill. Previously he had figured 18 or 20.

2. The 187 Democrats were split, apparently about 50-50.

3. Rep. Lesinski (R-Mich), top Democrat on the labor committee, said the opposition is concentrating its skimpy strength behind a last-minute motion to send the bill back to the committee. The objective there would be to take out the ban on industry-wide bargaining and put in a provision for further study of labor-management issues by a special commission.

4. Hartley agreed to accept an amendment by Rep. Kersten (R-Wis), designed to balance the bill by frobidding employers to get together on collective bargaining terms. He told reporters that is only fair because of similar restrictions proposed for unions.

But Hartley said he could see no more big fights ahead in the house.

"We've got the bill under control," he declared.

MAN CRITICALLY HURT IN TRAFFIC CRASH

George Weisent in Hospital with Severe Injuries.

George Weisent, 52, of near Marion is in critical condition in City hospital today following an automobile accident at 2 p. m. yesterday on Delaware avenue at Walnut street.

He is suffering from broken ribs and a back injury. Police said his car was struck by a light truck driven by Ronald E. Harraman, 17, of 584 East Church, and went out of control overturning in the front yard of a house at the northwest corner of the intersection. Harraman told police he did not see Weisent's car, coming north on Delaware avenue, when he pulled out of a gasoline station at the southwest corner.

Weisent was taken to the hospital in the Hughes ambulance.

Another collision was reported Wednesday at 5:15 p. m. on South Prospect street near West Columbia. Drivers were Paul E. Bowman, 21, of near Marion and John L. Colling, 28, of Cleveland. There were no injuries and damage was slight.

Lewis Denies Krug Charge

Says Secretary Told "Falsehood" in Accusing UMW of Neglect.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—John L. Lewis declared today that Secretary of Interior Krug uttered "a falsehood" in charging the United Mine Workers with a lack of cooperation in the coal mine safety measures.

"That is one of Krug's characteristic slurs—a falsehood," the UMW leader told the senate public lands committee after Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho) read to him part of Krug's testimony at an earlier hearing.

The committee is investigating the Centralia, Ill., mine blast March 25 which killed 111 men. Lewis reiterated today the disaster was "due to the negligence" of Krug, boss of the government-seized pits.

"Can't Afford Toll"

"The nation cannot afford to continue to kill and wound with impunity the men who mine the nation's coal," he told the committee.

Lewis said the policy of the coal mines administration toward the miners had been one of "harrassment, oppression and intimidation—all pursuant to Mr. Krug's policy."

He read off coal mine fatality statistics and told the senators it isn't enough to devise safety codes—they must be effectively administered.

"And that is what Krug didn't do," he thundered.

"Violated Pledge"

"Krug did not live up to the pledge signed by him on the President's desk. He didn't live up to his contract, and we had the Centralia disaster, and we'll have others."

Lewis said the United States is now the only country producing for export which has a coal surplus, and he added:

"We won't have a surplus long unless we treat our mine workers better—unless we decide not to kill and wound so many of them every day—to use them up and then throw them on the scrap heap."

During the war years, Lewis told the subcommittee, approximately 140,000 young men left the mining industry and he asserted they are not going back.

Explosion Won't Affect Gas Supply, Officials Say

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 17—The explosions which damaged oil plants at Texas City, Tex., probably won't affect the public supply, according to oil producers attending the annual spring meeting here of the American Petroleum Institute's eastern district.

Jake L. Hammon of Dallas, Tex., institute vice president, said today the Texas disaster wouldn't have any noticeable effect on the consumers unless the oil refineries are completely destroyed. He pointed out that this is an "off-season" for the oil producing business.

James E. Pew of Philadelphia, an executive of the Sun Oil Co., said other oil companies would take up the commitments of the firms whose plants were damaged.

Kenton Woman Seeks Word from Texas Sister

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 17—Mrs. J. E. McIntyre, a native of Texas City, Tex., and now a resident of Kenton, sought news today of the welfare of her sister, Mrs. Jewell Baker, whom she said lives only four blocks from the Monsanto Chemical plant in Texas City, Tex. The plant was one of the first to go in the series of explosions yesterday which ravished the city.

7-Year-Old Girl Dared by 2 Boys Sends Fire Alarm

A seven-year-old girl just couldn't take a dare yesterday afternoon. So she pulled a fire box at Pearl and West Columbia streets.

When the fire engines came rushing up, her darers, two eight-year-old boys, melted away. She started to run, but her conscience suddenly took hold.

She remained and very penitently told Chief Owen A. Sifritt that she had pulled that alarm.

"Couldn't you take a dare, even when you knew you were doing wrong?" he asked. She couldn't answer that one, but promised never to do it again.

Her teacher and parents will remind her not to from time to time, the chief thinks.

New Ship Explosions Have Appearance of Big Rockets

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Writer

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17—The new ship explosions today that sharpened the sorrow and misery of this stricken city looked like a giant sky rocket, coming as they did 13 hours after twin blasts took hundreds of lives and injured thousands. It further stunned and dazed the weary citizens.

At dawn searchlights crumpled steel and debris that covers uncounted scores of bodies. The blanket of black billowing smoke over the city is heavier than ever, the result of several new oil refinery fires caused by the newest explosions of the vessel flying high.

Just after 1 a. m. I walked into a downtown store building where the casualty toll was being tabulated by six men. I closed the door behind me, walked to the center of the big room and a terrific explosion shook the building and brought plaster from the ceiling.

One man dived under a table, another hit the floor, a third rolled up against the front door, blocking it.

Second Blast Comes

Two seconds later came a second thunderous blast. I yanked the door open, pushing the man out of the way and plunged into the street in a vacant lot. I watched red-hot steel streaming into the sky. A fiery black cloud climbed to 2,000 feet. Then steel fragments pinged on the sidewalk and pavement.

In the dock area the jagged pieces were falling like rain.

W. H. Boucher, a volunteer helper from Goose Creek, Texas, was in the danger area, helping to free trapped bodies from debris.

"The blast," he said, "blowed the buttons off my jacket. A piece of shrapnel cut the right leg off a man standing right beside me. A Red Cross nurse helped me fix him a tourniquet. Her head was bleeding but she didn't pay any attention to herself. The man was conscious but he didn't say a word. He didn't even moan. I stayed with him until they brought up a stretcher and carried him off."

Rescue in 15 Seconds

Fifteen seconds after the second explosion rescue work got underway. A loudspeaker across from the City hall came to life with a man at the microphone profanely urging action. A siren wailed and then there was a chorus of wails and patrol cars and ambulances gunned up the street heading for the water front.

In seven minutes ambulances had returned, discharging the first casualties in a heavily spotlighted area back of the brick city hall. Two dozen cots soon were filled. Doctors and nurses administered emergency aid and walked between the cots. All the men were conscious. All were

Blast Toll Seen At 700 to 800

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—National Red Cross headquarters today reported an estimate that the death toll in the Texas City, Tex., explosion may total 700 to 800.

The headquarters said the estimate was made by Roy Wingate of St. Louis, assistant disaster director in the Red Cross midwestern area, and was based on reports Wingate received from the stricken city.

Wingate reported, headquarters said, that 400 bodies have been recovered and that an estimated 3,000 have been injured. He said two blasts early today had caused 50 casualties, including one fatality.

The Red Cross said approximately 400 seriously injured persons are in hospitals at Galveston and Houston.

CONDOLENCES POUR INTO STRICKEN CITY

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex., April 17—Messages offering aid and condolence to the people of Texas and particularly those of Texas City poured into the governor's office today.

They came from private citizens and officials both in the United States and abroad.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a message to Gov. Beauford H. Jester, said:

"I offer deepest condolence to you and the people of Texas in this tragedy. I am informed that General Wainwright is already in touch with you and is sending assistance. As chief of staff of the Army I assure you that we are willing and anxious to give any aid within our power and resources. Do not hesitate to call on us."

Henri Bonnet, French ambassador to the United States, telegraphed:

"I am deeply moved by the tragedy which has struck Texas City and I want to express to you my profound sympathy for the victims of this disaster."

This from the Daily Express in London:

"Profoundly shocked by Texas City disaster. Londoners who bore the strain of wartime blitz appreciate immensity of suffering and associate themselves in offering deepest sympathy to those bereaved."

Rice Football Star Hurt in Rescue Work

By The Associated Press

TEXAS CITY, TEX., April 17—Windell Williams, Rice Institute's all-Southwest conference end last season, was injured early today while engaged in rescue work.

The 24-year-old athlete, assisting in clearing wreckage at the explosion scene, attempted to duck under an automobile as the 75 High Flyer exploded but was struck by a piece of debris.

He was sent to Jefferson hospital suffering a severe shoulder injury.

LEAKING GASOLINE, OIL FIRES, ADD TO GULF TOWN'S PERIL

By The Associated Press

TEXAS CITY, April 17—Rumbling oil fires sending walls of black smoke a mile high crept close to eight leaking tanks of high octane gasoline here today and Texas City, rocked yesterday and today by five major explosions, waited tensely for more.

The death toll stood at an estimated 650, with 3,000 injured, according to Dr. Clarence Quinn, medical coordinator appointed by Mayor J. C. Trahan.

Deputy constable Herbert Whitmore of Galveston county said all of Texas City was in danger. He said if the wind shifted to the south "Texas City is liable to go."

The harbor area has been evacuated of rescue and relief workers. No effort is being made to extinguish the oil fires, but firemen are keeping it from spreading to nearby residential and business sections.

Many Residents Made Homeless

The city's 15,000 residents had dwindled to about 1,000 today, A. R. .Duncan, Houston policeman, said. Many made homeless have moved to a nearby army camp and to Galveston, Houston and other towns.

The fear of chlorine gas last night caused others to leave. A false rumor spread that an official evacuation order had been issued, and caused hundreds to move. The gas is still a threat today, and gas masks are worn.

Highways leading to Texas city are blocked and no one is allowed to enter the razed ghost town unless he is on official business.

The weather was clear but cool, and blankets were being worn Indian fashion by hundreds.

223 Bodies Embalmed

The task of embalming the 223 bodies at the improvised morgue in the school gymnasium was completed early today. But more bodies are still being found and moved to the gymnasium, still decorated with wilted bunting from a recent school party. Lines of dazed citizens stand outside, waiting to enter a few at a time to identify relatives.

Willis E. Hammontree, chief boatswains mate of Maryville, Tenn., yesterday alone brought 107 of the 223 bodies to the morgue in a five ton navy truck.

Only one instance of looting was reported. Highway patrolmen picked up a Negro last night. They found $6,000 in cash on him, and took him into custody.

Plate Glass Like Snow

Little effort was being made today to clear up debris. However, Al Dopking, Associated Press staff writer, said they were "scooping up plate glass like snow" in the business area.

J. H. Hill, named the official spokesman for Mayor Trahan, said at 10:30 a. m. that "we are far from being out of danger. The thing we fear now is the spread of oil fires."

Eighty thousand pounds of foamite was rushed here today from Baytown by the Humble Oil company, and 120 new firefighters were sent by Shell to join those on hand.

L. D. Romine, Red Cross official, said the major problem facing them today was the feeding of the homeless, and the rescue and relief workers. Financial aid was being given to the poor in hospitals and elsewhere by the Red Cross.

Three new explosions rocked this Texas coast industrial city today. They followed the two yesterday morning at 9:12 a. m. that set off the chain of disaster and tragedy described as the worst in Texas in half a century.

After conferring with the Red Cross, Quinn said that 400 were known to be dead and that another 250 dead were believed to be in the debris along the waterfront. He said that 3,000 were injured.

At dawn a blanket of billowing black smoke covered the city, the result of new oil fires caused by the newest explosions of the liberty ship High Flyer.

Deputy Constable Herbert Whitmore of Galveston county said all Texas City was in danger.

"If the wind turns back to the south, Texas City is liable to go," he said. "If those tanks start burning we can't stop them."

2 Violent Explosions

At 1:10 a. m. there were two violent explosions as the burning High Flyer, loaded with nitrate, blew up, while four tugs tried to get her away from her berth.

A secondary explosion occurred at 3:25 a. m., but it was far from being as intense as the two earlier. It appeared to come from one of the numerous oil tanks that dot the city.

Captain Volney J. Shown of the Houston police department and director of rescue work, said that five minutes before the High

Ruined City Reminds Newsman Of War-Bombed Axis Oil Town

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

OVER TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 17—Flaming Texas City today looks from the air like a peace-time parallel to war-bombed Ploesti, Rumanian oil capital.

It is now 7:15 a. m., central standard time. We are making our third flight over the burning town.

The fire-ravaged industrial section and the peaceful residential areas offer the contrast between life and death.

One is a two-mile wide torch. The other is the living pattern of a deserted village. Its fate still dependent on whether the present favorable wind holds.

Angry smoke towering to 3,000 feet spreads from the city like a gigantic black wing—deep and dense where it joins the ground, feather-thin where the wind has dispersed it.

Turns Plane Near Scene

Capt. J. P. Tallon of Atlanta, Ga., turns the two-engined Eastern Air Lines silver liner on one wing and skirts the edge of the burning industrial zone.

At least a score of raw-oil storage tanks, each holding hundreds of thousands of gallons, are blazing furiously, engulfed in orange and black waves of hurricane-fire. They are studded through scores of other storage tanks, still intact but which may flame up momentarily.

Many of the tanks have been so badly battered by the blast that they look like tin cans crushed by children in a game of street hockey.

Our plane circles low toward the devastated area, keeping just far enough away so that if a tank blows up its blast won't sweep our craft down.

Water Front Charred Ruins

The waterfront area is in charred ruins. Only remnants remain of the Monsanto chemical plant that went up after the freighter-loaded French vessel Ob-

BARUCH URGES WORK TO AVOID INFLATION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 17—Bernard M. Baruch declared yesterday that "we are on the brink of an engulfing inflation. There is only one way out. That is by work."

Baruch, addressing the South Carolina state legislature on the occasion of the unveiling of his portrait, asserted:

"The more we produce, the less will be the cost of living; the more things we can buy; the easier will be the building up of our reserves —physical, financial and spiritual, too, for we shall be free of worry, the absence of which is a sense of security."

"We are today in the midst of a cold war," he said, adding:

"Our enemies are to be found abroad and at home. Let us never forget this: our unrest is the heart of their success. The peace of the world is the hope and the goal of our political system; it is the despair and defeat of those who stand against us."

Baruch said that if this country adopted a 5½-day, 44-hour week, with no strikes or lay-offs until Jan. 1, 1949, "the result would be electrifying."

"Production would flow smoothly," he said, "a sense of security would return to worker and employer, and the reaction upon the economy of the world would be deep and lasting.

"Unless we work, we shall see a vast inflation. Unless we work, we shall not be able to maintain our claim to power. That would be the greatest blow we could receive, for it would strip us of our strength to preserve our way of life."

REV. McADOW SPEAKS BEFORE BIBLE CLASS

Minister Takes Subject from Book of Matthew.

"Four Reflections of Our Lives" was the topic of Rev. H. M. McAdow, pastor of Wesley Methodist church when he spoke before the Wednesday Noon Bible class at the the Y.M.C.A.

He obtained his subject from Matthew 6:18, "Even so let your light shine before men; that they may see in good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven."

The four reflections of such living, Rev. McAdow, said, are faithfulness, altruism, honor and love.

The first is needed in work, in the home and in other responsibilities shouldered by the individual.

Altruism, the ability to think of others, is also necessary since no man can live independently. All are aware of the opinion of others.

Honor is also a requisite of the true Christian, the speaker declared, saying that the proverb, "Every man has his price," is not true.

Love, he concluded, can conquer the ills of the world.

Erie Executive Reports Road's Anti-Smoke Plans Progressing

CLEVELAND, April 17—Progress in the anti-smoke program of the Erie Railroad, which is planned to eliminate or largely reduce locomotive smoke, was reported today by H. D. Barber, operating vice president at Cleveland. The program is under the direct supervision of Frank X. Jones, supervisor of fuel and locomotive operation.

The railroad is doing this in two ways. The first consists of auxiliary devices being installed in Erie steam locomotives, and the second the rapid increase in the railroad's purchase of diesel locomotives.

Engine smoke, Jones pointed out, is due to the fact that a fire bed in the locomotive can't be turned on and off like an electric light. The fire bed of a locomotive designed to operate efficiently at high speed or to switch heavy tonnages of freight normally can't be idled down or speeded up rapidly enough to eliminate smoking for brief periods. As a result, coal-fired engines are being equipped with over-fire jets to supply additional air over the locomotive's fire bed, burning volatile gases which would normally pass out of the stack as black smoke.

All Equipped

All yard and passenger locomotives are now equipped with such jets. Meanwhile, an improved type of jet has been developed by Erie engineers which is being installed on all engines as standard equipment. This new jet funnels air when the locomotive is in operation in addition to supplying air by steam injection.

Erie engineers have designed a second device which consists of a series of baffle plates permitting the locomotive to make better use of air for combustion normally drawn in from under the fire bed. When the engine is in motion air normally tends to concentrate at the rear of the fire box, which leads to uneven burning and smoke. The new baffles distribute the air over the entire fire bed, promoting even burning and resulting in reduced smoke.

These baffles have been installed on all large passenger engines, together with a number of freight engines, and will be standard equipment on most of the Erie's 740 steam locomotives as rapidly as materials can be obtained.

The addition of auxiliary equipment, Jones said, is a difficult mechanical job as other elements of the locomotive's power plant have to be relocated. Nevertheless, changeover is being effected rapidly, wherever possible, rather than being restricted to engines coming in for periodic rebuilding, which is the normal practice in modification operations.

12 More Diesels

Six 5,400 h.p. diesel electric locomotives were placed in service by the Erie for long freight hauls in 1944 and 12 more are on order now for delivery late this year. Last fall 20 diesel electric switch engines were received and orders have been placed for 25 more for use at various points on the system.

In addition, all of Erie's long distance passenger trains between Jersey City and Chicago will be completely dieselized and streamlined when delivery is made of seven 4,500 h.p. diesel passenger locomotives in July.

With the receipt of the locomotives now on order, the Erie's diesel fleet will consist of 18 heavy freight, seven passenger and 57 switch locomotives, making a total of 82, one of the largest diesel ownerships in the east.

STOCK MARKET IN IRREGULAR TERRAIN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 17—Stocks worked over an irregular terrain today with scattered market leaders edging forward while many issues stumbled.

The list ran out of recovery steam at the start. The ticker tape frequently loafed and the direction was indefinite near the fourth hour.

Occasional resistance was shown by Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Great Northern Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio, Pacific Western Oil, Allied Chemical, Dow Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Granby Consolidated (on the first dividend in two years), International Harvester, Standard Oil (NJ) and U. S. Rubber.

Intermittent losers were Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Norfolk and Western, Southern Railway, Electric Power and Light, Libby McNeill, Du Pont, Air Reduction, Schenley, American Woolen, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft and Anaconda.

Galion Church Centennial To Feature Week's Celebration

Special to The Star

GALION, April 17—Elaborate plans were announced today for the celebration of the centennial of the founding of Peace Lutheran church in Galion.

The program for the celebration which will be presented June 1 to June 8, is being announced to the public, and in letters sent to the congregation, by Rev. Philip E. Auer, pastor of the church. A highlight of the week's observance will be the dedication of the 32-bell Deagan carillon which has been purchased and installed in the church belfry by L. M. Liggett, a member of the congregation, at a cost of $26,000.

Dr. Harold L. Yochum, president of Capital university in Columbus, will be the speaker for the main service of thanksgiving which will open the week's observance, at 10:30 a. m., Sunday, June 1. The dedication service for the carillon is set for 4 p. m., of the same day, when the speaker will be Rev. Auer. At 5 p. m., the first recital will be played on the carillon by Miss June Albright, carillonneur of J. C. Deagan, Inc., Chicago, Ill.

On two nights of the week, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9 p. m., open house will be held at the parsonage, 132 East Church street, for all members and friends of the congregation.

Community Service

The entire community will be invited to the Community Night service which is planned for Wednesday evening, June 4, at 8 o'clock at the church. Rev. Charles H. Lange, pastor of Faith Lutheran church, Detroit, Mich., will bring the message. Rev. Herbert S. Garnes, Jr., pastor of First Lutheran church of Galion, and Rev. R. R. Elliker of First Reformed church of Galion, are being invited to speak at this service.

When Peace Lutheran church was organized May 31, 1847, it met in a union church in Galion, which was shared by First Lutheran and First Reformed congregations. The church was located at North Union and West Church streets.

Another highlight of the week's program will be an organ recital to be given Friday, June 6, at 8 p. m. by Theodore Schaefer, a former Galion organist, now minister of music at The Covenant-First Presbyterian church, Washington, D. C.

Reunion Planned

Climaxing the centennial celebration will be the home-coming service, reunion of confirmation classes, and dedication of a plaque honoring members who were in service during the war. This is slated for Sunday, June 8, at 10:30 p. m. in the church. The speaker will be Rev. John E. Braun, pastor of St. John Lutheran church, Port Clinton, O. and former Army chaplain. The 83 names of the men and women of the church who were in service are placed on the plaque, a gift from the Junior and Senior Luther leagues of the church. Following the program, a basket picnic and social time will be held at the Junior High school.

CHURCH SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Society of World Service of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church entertained other societies of the denomination in this area at a spring rally last Thursday. Morning and afternoon sessions were held and a potluck luncheon was served. Addresses were by Mrs. Carl Eschbach, for a long period a missionary in the Philippine Islands, and Miss Esther Clinton of Dayton. Others taking part were Mrs. L. E. Dietzel of Columbus, Rev. H. V. Falor of Oakland church, Marion, Rev. R. W. Faulkner, host pastor, Mrs. C. L. Hanning of Marion, Rev. R. L. Sutherland of Greenwood church, Marion, Mrs. A. E. McVey of Bucyrus, Rev. J. C. Slight Decline In Employment

Number of Workers Fails To Increase First Time Since Late in 1945.

According to records in the Marion office of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation - Ohio State Employment service, the total employment figure for 36 reporting industries last month failed to show at least a slight increase over the previous month for the first time since September 1945.

In March the employment figure for the 36 industries dropped to 8,056 from 8,104 in January, a decrease of 48 workers. Fred B. Scherff, manager of the local employment office, said he believed the decrease was primarily the result of department stores returning to their normal employment following the Christmas season, either by not replacing normal turnover or by laying off workers.

Mr. Scherff pointed out that even though total employment decreased by 40 workers, male employment increased 60 workers, and the decrease was entirely in the female category of 108 workers.

Analyzing the employment figures of the nine retail department and novelty stores included in the 36 reporting establishments, it is found that their total employment dropped from 577 in January to 459 in March, a net decrease of 118 workers, according to the records in the local BUC-OSES office. Of the 36 reporting establishments, the 16 manufacturing establishments increased their total employment by 47 workers from 6,398 in January to 6,445 in March, Mr. Scherff advised.

Employment of veterans in the retail establishments dropped from 49 in January to 48 in March and in the manufacturing establishments from 1,749 in January to 1,681 in March. The drop in veteran employment in the manufacturing firms was due primarily, Mr. Scherff said, to the decrease in veteran employment in one particular factory where veteran employes decreased by 77.

Mr. Scherff advised that 14 of the 36 reporting establishments anticipate remaining at their present employment figures for the next six months and 20 anticipate a net demand of 219 workers during the period.

A Memorable Feat

SIXTY-ONE of the 80 fliers who made the first air strike against Tokyo will meet Friday in Miami Beach for their first peacetime reunion.

America will never forget the debt it owes the men who five years ago this month risked hazardous takeoffs from the aircraft carrier Hornet for a non-return mission over hostile territory. They were the first to carry the war to the enemy in his island fastness, the first to let the foe know retribution was closing in. As a morale builder at home the bombardment of Tokyo was the greatest feat prior to D-Day in Normandy.

The mission of these men was one of the outstanding feats of American arms. May they have smooth air, unlimited visibility and happy landings wherever their charted courses take them.

Phrase-Making

A YEAR from now, the major-party nominating conventions will be a scant two months away. Time is flying. The executive director of the Democratic national committee, Gael Sullivan, has been practicing his phrase-making for the big occasion and has come up with a fair sample—Taft-Tory.

A Taft-Tory, it appears from the content of Director Sullivan's warming-up exercises, is a Republican hell-bent on leading the United States into insolvency, meaning that he is reluctant to throw away money. He is a Republican whose heart is set on inflation, meaning he wants to guard the value of the currency. He is a Republican who advises against profligacy in spending money abroad and therefore is devoted to war. Director Sullivan's logic is obscure, but his intent is clear.

The man who is held to be the likely successor to Democratic National Chairman Hannegan is trying to find a combination of words that will revive the prejudices nurtured by the New Deal and the CIO in the campaigns of former years. "Tory" was standard equipment for Democratic orators in the presidential campaigns of 1936 and 1940. The CIO has spent thousands of its political dollars to develop prejudice against Senator Taft, on the sound premise that he was the most formidable individual in the political opposition. Taft-Tory isn't bad, but we can do just as well without half trying. How about Wallace-Wobblies?

Overcoming Inertia

NEWTON was more profound than he may have realized when he evolved the first law of motion, which is: "A material particle or body, if left to itself, will maintain its condition, either of rest or of motion, unchanged." This is known as inertia and, besides being one of the axioms of physics, it has its human application.

For instance, the striking surface on a folder of matches for safety reasons is better on the back of the folder, yet it wasn't placed there until years after safety matches became common. The army was shipping toilet papers overseas for years, but it wasn't until the war came along and placed a premium on shipping space that it was realized that almost twice as much could be shipped in the same space if the rolls were compressed.

Now the research department of the Western Growers association has been investigating the shipping of fresh foodstuffs and makes these observations: Useless tops make up 26 per cent of a load of carrots, and cauliflowers stripped of their jackets before shipment take up 63 per cent less space. Trimmed vegetables will in some cases require a protective film but the space saving will more than make up for packaging costs.

There are scores of short cuts and simplified methods waiting to be found in everyday life. To find them it's just a matter of overcoming the first law of motion.

Taking a Chance

DECISION of the Ohio Federation of Teachers to initiate a constitutional amendment to step up the state school program to $100,000,000 indicates there is a strong belief that the Daniels-Cramer bill, as drafted, will not be approved, or that provisions of the bill are not liberal enough.

Instead of embodying in its proposed amendment conditions similar to the bill before the legislature, the federation's plan asks for $12,000,000 more than the estimated yield under the Daniels-Cramer measure. This would pay teachers a $2,400 annual minimum instead of $2,000. The $2,400 minimum, federation spokesmen point out, has been approved in California, which has about the same population and school enrollment as Ohio.

With a minimum pay increase assured, the federation elects to gamble for a larger sum. By putting the matter up to the court of final appeal, the voters, the federation runs the risk of defeat and endangering the schools' position with the legislature.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Wallace Worried Truman More Than He Admitted.

WASHINGTON, April 17—President Truman was rather more worried than the White House said about the Wallace campaign in Europe against the agreed bi-partisan American foreign policy. So were his advisers. They could see Mr. Wallace performing his Madison Square Garden fiasco of the last campaign all over again, but this time more dangerously. Mr. Truman could and did correct the effort of Wallace, a commerce secretary, to run the foreign policy of the government against the secretary of state. But this time Wallace was trying to arouse the world against his own government and against its agreed bi-partisan foreign policy.

When the President gets worried he usually comes up to see his old friends in the senate who have their own slants on what is going on, more varied slants than the White House is able to get sometimes. The day the opening ball game was rained out, he had a lunch with senators, his usual annual lunch on that occasion when he takes a half day off. His best personal adviser told him he should issue a statement; he should not just try to appease Wallace as he had done earlier predicting he would be back in the Democratic party next election, but make it clear to everyone in some way exactly what Wallace was doing.

Republicans Disturbed

The Republicans were genuinely upset also. Senator Vandenberg said privately it was "shocking, just as he had intimated publicly, but in more forceful language.

Up to that time Wallace had been only mildly accused of treason, of violating the law and of having committed such an offense that his passport might justly be revoked. But Wallace persisted in his efforts to discredit the American policy, or as the papers put it, "stiffened his defiance." In my opinion that is where he made his utterly indefensible error. The President could not afford having an American assert his rights to campaign in a foreign country against the government of the United States. If he did allow it, he would soon not only have the Stassens fact finding in Moscow at the most unfortunate time possible, when General Marshall was dealing for peace with Stalin, and the Wallaces of this country establishing a right to defeat the policy of democracy, he would have recognized the right of Americans to do these things.

Those people have no such rights. Mr. Wallace is arguing that technically he escapes the law against an American citizen dealing privately when he met Premier Attlee. Many guilty persons have escaped on legal technicalities. He might technically escape prosecution or conviction for treason.

But everyone knows what his offense is. It was committed in the open. The offense is this: In this country Wallace did not amount to a stick on the obituary page of politics. He was a has-been. His propaganda flowed expensively from the printing machines of a magazine which never had enough following in this country to earn its way. Everyone knew what it was.

Picks His Audience

So, Mr. Wallace goes over to the British Socialists and immediately becomes big news. What he said was actually only what he had said so often in this country. The offense was not in the words, but in the violation of common decency and simplest common sense. He sought out support from a foreign power which he could not get in the United States. He sought it in a minority wing of the Socialist party which has been opposing the American policy. He did it at a critical period of foreign policy when the Greek-Turkish aid bill was coming before the senate, the bill which the Democrats and Republicans had agreed on, in a democratic way.

To my mind, there can be no greater political crime.

Such foolish attempts to destroy the government of the United States (for if its foreign policy is lost what would remain?) have in the past usually worked out their own destruction. No one pays much attention to a fool when he starts to take in too much territory. But when he starts to run the whole world, people usually do something about it.

He Packs a Punch
But No Longer a Rod

Frankie Sinatra's gun permit has been revoked following his recent slugging of a New York newspaperman.

Oh well, the long-talked policy of disarming the aggressors had to begin somewhere.

The new Sinatra is a two-fisted rather than a one-gun man. Henceforth, he won't be plugging anything but songs.

The Voice's emergence as a belligerent who will fight at the drop of a beanie gives the lie to Hollywood elders who have been wont to say: "There'll never be another Tommy Dorsey.

As usual, conflicting versions have been given by principles of last week's bout. The aggrieved citizen claims Sinatra hit him with malice aforethought on the jaw. Frankie says it was with a right hook on the spur of the moment.

At any rate, Slugger Sinatra's latest setto bears out the contention of those of us who have thought all along that he could, too, punch his way out of a paper sack . . . . . especially if he knows which is the weak side.

Freedom of the Press

By RAYMOND MOLEY

CHANCELLOR ROBERT M. HUTCHINS' commission on freedom of the press has labored mightily and lengthily and has brought forth a mouse of a report. Hardly an idea or fact appears in it which has not been repeated endlessly in books on journalism or in the press itself.

This report seems to be the summation of what was learned by a study which was suggested in 1942, started in 1943, finished in 1946 and published in 1947. Financial support for the inquiry was provided by Time, Inc., which gave $200,000 and by the Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc., which gave $15,000. Chancellor Hutchins is careful to note that these donors had neither control over nor responsibility for the report. The chancellor could have saved himself this statement. No informed reader would have believed that two competent editorial agencies would have served so many words with so little merit.

The members of the commission are men whose experience has, in general, been singularly removed from the working press. All but two are professors, and none are professors of journalism.

13 Recommendations

After a preliminary essay on the problem, the requirements, the communications revolution, the performance and self-regulation—an essay studded with tiresome, twice-told truisms and short of specific criticism—the commission makes 13 recommendations about "what can be done." A summary of these is disappointing to those in the press who are looking for constructive suggestions and to that part of the public which is asking for better things from the press. Briefly stated, the recommendations are these:

The constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press should be extended to the movies and radio. This has been demanded for years.

The government should facilitate new ventures in communications and should see that the public gets the benefits of concentration. The government has done this, and the public, despite the government, has been getting great benefits from concentration.

People injured by lies in the press should have a legal remedy better than recourse to the libel law. The commission marches up this mountain and then marches down.

Anti-sedition laws should be repealed. The commisison ignores the necessity of legal means of dealing with domestic communism.

Government should tell about itself in the media of mass communication and if it has anything more to say about itself, it should use media of its own. In Heaven's name, what has government been doing with its swarms of press agents all these years?

The agencies of mass communications should accept responsibilities of common carriers of information and discussion. Good agencies do this, and all agencies say they do.

Agencies of mass communication should finance new activities. Some do, and in a competitive world, the ones who do this prosper best.

Members of the press should criticize each other. They do.

The press should increase the competence of its workers. Ask any publisher how hard he tries to do this.

The radio should treat advertising as it is treated by the best newspapers. True enough; but the commission does not tell how it should be done.

Non-profit institutions should supplement the press. They do.

More school and research are needed. By all means!

There should be a new agency to appraise and report annually. This would provide continuous employment for the professors. Good.

After Three Years

The suggestions of the commission are a pretty puny residue after three years of study. But that's all there is. The press will now proceed as usual, which is pretty good, considering everything.

Off-Street Parking

SIXTY-FIVE cities last year opened new off-street parking facilities to reduce downtown traffic congestion, reports International City Managers' Association.

Businessmen as well as motorist-shoppers are being aided by creation of these off-street facilities. In many cities further development of downtown business is stymied by traffic congestion.

The 1947 Municipal Yearbook reveals that a total of 345 cities out of 875 reporting now have one or more municipal off-street parking lots in operation, marking a 63 per cent increase over 1942 when only 211 cities operated municipal facilities.

Miami Beach has voted a $300,000 bond issue for off-street parking and in addition has used $73,733 from tax revenues to establish parking lots. In California, the city of Whittier purchased five off-street parking lots from the proceeds of 300 parking meters installed in 1945.

St. Petersburg, Fla., which opened two lots totaling 1,100 cars capacity, set the record last year for area expansion of municipal parking facilities. Cost of the lots were a moderate $8,000.

An average of two lots is operated by each of the 345 cities over 10,000 reporting publicly-owned facilities. Fewer than 20 cities charge autoists for parking. Rates vary from 10 cents per day in Akron to 35 cents for 24 hours in Chicago. Miami Beach and several other cities have installed parking meters in their lots.

The only spot in the United States where a house could be built with each of its four corners in a different state is at the common meeting point of Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, April 17, 1937.

The Rumanian government, fearful of a pro-Nazi coup, was ready for any eventuality as political repercussions of the banishment of ex-Prince Nicholas created tension throughout the nation.

Mrs. Ray Williams of East Church street, whose term as state chairman of the sunshine fund of the Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem was to end with the supreme Shrine convention in Tulsa, Okla., in May, was honored with a surprise given by members of Marion Shrine No. 15.

Miss Lois Weaver and Rolland Augenstein were married in the Central M. E. church at Springfield by Dr. Jesse Swank, pastor, and a former pastor of Epworth M. E. church here.

Sixty members of Clifton lodge, F. and A. M. of Cleveland, were guests of Marion Lodge No. 70. The visitors conducted a memorial service at the tomb of President Harding and later visited the Harding home and museum.

A group of Marion Y. M. C. A. members attended a high school youth conference at Tiffin. The party included Willis Hayes, Francis Ruzzo, Joe Caprino, George Diegle, Dan Hale, Charles Caprino, Thomas Sonpanstine Jr., Frank Roberts, Frank Mann, Edward Hale and Clarence Long, boys' secretary of the Marion Y. TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, April 17, 1927.

A total of 71 converts were received at the Central Christian church climaxing a series of revival meetings. The meetings were directed by Rev. S. L. Sellers of Indianapolis, Ind., and Henry W. Cohagen of Sidney, O., evangelists.

Proof that the weather forecaster sometimes makes a mistake was provided in the Easter weather which was clear and sunshiny. The forecast predicted showers.

Among the Easter weddings in Marion were ceremonies uniting Miss Marguerite Pauline Huston and Floyd W. Mumford, Miss Doris Audrey Wertz and John M. Davis, Miss Ruth B. Shaffer and Sheldon Lester.

Ivan L. Chambers, 24, of Farming street, died at the home of his father, J. S. Chambers on Ballentine avenue.

Dr. B. L. George, pastor of Epworth M. E. church, gave the sermon at the annual Easter services of Marion Commandery, Knights Templar.

Marshal Strengthens Policy

By WALTER LIPPMANN

SECRETARY MARSHALL has, I believe, made more progress at Moscow than may appear. He has done much to repair the deficiencies and to correct the errors of the European policy he inherited—a thing which has to be done before the conditions can exist for a settlement with the Soviet Union. In measuring his work we must, it seems to me, look first at how far the British, the French, and the Americans have succeeded in co-ordinating and harmonizing their ideas.

For until they are agreed about the shape of the German and the European settlement, no agreement with the Soviet Union is conceivable. If any agreement is reached with Stalin before Marshall leaves Moscow, it will be because of, and more or less in proportion to, the effectiveness of the agreements reached among the western allies.

The great error of our previous policy, which had its roots in President Roosevelt's prejudices about France, has been the notion that a European peace could be made without Europeans, that a Big Three—none of them a European power—could shape the destiny of the continent. They were bound to disagree on how to impose a European peace, and were doomed instead to quarrel among themselves for the leadership and domination of Europe.

Bevins Convictions Weak

Not until Secretary Marshall began to get a grip on our policy—which is naturally taking some time—was anything done to correct this error. A year ago Mr. Bevin made a faint-hearted attempt to reach an understanding with France, which would have carried with it an understanding with Belgium and the Netherlands, about the political structure of Germany and the integration of the German economy into a European system. Mr. Bevin lacked strong convictions of his own, and got little encouragement from Mr. Byrnes. The scant attention which Mr. Byrnes was able to devote to Germany and Europe was confined almost exclusively to following the advice of Gen. Clay who, with all this immense ability and virtue, has been so preoccupied with Germany that he has never been able to interest himself in Europe.

Therefore, when Mr. Marshall went to Moscow, the indispensable preliminary preparation had not been done. He had to seek agreements with Mr. Molotov before it had been settled as to what the British, the Americans and the French would agree to—if, when, and as Mr. Molotov were willing to agree to anything.

Under these conditions agreement with Mr. Molotv was inconceivable. The disunity of the western powers invited Soviet obstruction. Only if they were united could there exist any compulsion or any indicement for the Russians to agree.

For we may take it as certain, both in logic and in experience, that the Rusisans will participate in a European settlement only if they realize that the greater part of Europe will have a settlement even if they do not participate. We must not let phrases and slogans confuse us. We are not creating a western bloc against Russia if we unite western Europe, including western Germany, in a European system which has a standing invitation to Czechoslovakia, Poland, eastern Germany and all of eastern Europe to join, and offers the Soviet Union an equal sponsorship with ourselves.

Nor are we dividing one world into two words. There are now two worlds. By uniting our world—which is the greater part of Europe and of the globe—we are much more likely eventually to come nearer to one world. For there will be a system of states, capable of surviving and of prospering without the Soviets, yet offering great advantages to the Soviet allies, and to the Soviet Union itself, if they join the system.

The true policy, therefore, is to proceed with the Russians if possible, without them if necessary—never excluding them or their allies from equal benefits and equality of position, yet refusing to wait and to do nothing for ourselves if they choose to exclude themselves.

Something of this sort, if I interpret the developments in Moscow correctly, is the guiding principle of the European policy which Secretary Marshall has been forming. It is a sound policy. For one of the crucial features of a sound diplomacy, as of a sound military plan, is that it has a big objective if all goes well, and a lesser objective, well worth attaining, if all does not go so well. Full agreement among all the powers on a total European settlement remains the big objective. Failing that, there is still the lesser objectives of a settlement of at least three-quarters of Europe, designed eventually to include the rest.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Lincoln in the Bleachers

("For the first time in big league history a Negro, Jackie Robinson, has been made a regular."—News item.

* * *

"Play ball!".... The cry rings as of old....
An epic days is here:
A Negro trots upon the field
And there's a rousing cheer;
It's joined in by a tall, gaunt man
In whom there is no sham—
A lanky, sad-faced, awkward fan
Whose name is Abraham!

II

Abe sits out in the bleachers which
The common people share
In shirt sleeves and in broiling sun;
He likes it best out there.
This is a day of days for him....
He joins the cry of "Slide!"
And "Pickle one!" and "Sock it out!"....
For this his legions died!

III

No Lincoln of the statues now—
No figure cold in stone—
He munches peanuts, eats a "dog"
And joins each cheer and moan;
As crack of bat and ball is heard,
There in the springtime sun
He sees an ancient hope reborn—
A nation kept as one!

IV

A black boy makes a snappy play
Or smacks one far and deep....
Old Abe thinks of the hallowed fields
Where "Reb" and "Yankee" sleep;
Some watch the innings pass and see
A ball game, that is all....
Abe hears an old time battle hymn
And sees a bastion fall!

V

A ball goes sailing through the air....
The crowd roars with the blow....
To Lincoln's mind there comes "Four score
And seven years ago....."
The fans see just another hit
As spring form they assess,
But Abe sees Shiloh, Gettysburg
And Bloody Wilderness.

VI

"Hey, poke one out!"...."Step into one!"
"It's goin' over!....Gee...."
("All persons held as slaves now are
And henceforth shall be free.")
"Come on there, Bobby, bring 'em home!...
Wow! See him hit the sod!....
("I ask the judgment of mankind
The gracious help of God!")

VII

"By virtue of the power in me
I order and declare...."
These words seem whispered in the stands
And drift upon the air;
For Lincoln's at the ball game now
On this he keeps the score:
Emancipation's yellowed script
And shall forever more!

Hope Springs Eternal

By TRUMAN TWILL

Nothing saddens and toughens a man like property maintenance in a world filled with vandals, dinosaurs, marauders and stray buffalo.

If he tries to raise grass on a bank, 250 combat troops hold maneuvers on the bank within 24 hours and 24 hours later the rains come and wash out the ruins.

Only God can make a tree, sighs the sentimental householder, gazing upon the symmetry of a forest beauty, but it can be unmade by juvenile woodsmen, amateur apemen and lady drivers who never learned how to back a coupe.

The rose bush, the man said, would be a sunburst of fragrant, luminous beauty when it got its growth. But what is the rose bush? It is a withered, chewed-up stalk lying on the ground. The dog dug it up to see what was on the other end.

A herd of bison mashed down and mangled the ornamental fence. Or perhaps it was only a 12-year-old pursuing a fly ball. There is only a slight difference.

The flower beds and their contents, if any, have been ground into an oozing pulp by the careless passage of two dozen dinosaurs answering to names like Junior, Mary Louise and Rover.

Cops, robbers, junior G-men, breakfast-food champions, radio heroes, public enemies, paratroopers, Indians, cowboys and hordes of camp followers have obliterated the trellises, which they didn't even notice.

A stray five-ton truck with six wheels, a drunken driver and a powerful engine has left its mark on the tree lawn, which previously had been impervious to everything but blasting powder.

Innumerable contacts with a moist, dirty basketball have cast doubt on the theory that the garage must have been painted white at one time.

The tender shoots on the lily bulbs, the perennial onions, the daffodils, tulips and rhubarb have been crushed to earth by the thundering herd and never will rise again.

The shrubbery has been kicked into bedraggled submission. Its spirit and branches are broken. The vines have been torn up.

The driveway is where the lawn should be and whatever grass has survived will appear eventually in the driveway where the lawn shouldn't be.

Hope springs eternal, but a man with property maintenance on his conscience learns not to spring until he sees the whites of their eyes.

Cross-Wind Landings

A relatively simple idea, which has been known since the earliest days of aviation, bids fair to cancel the need for multi-lane airports and eliminate the need for more than half the Civil Aeronautics Administration's billion-dollar airport improvement program.

This idea, upon which research was resumed two years ago with a comparatively small CAA allocation of $150,000, allows planes to land crabwise into the wind. Once the caster-type wheels touch the ground, they can be directed down the runway while the plane continues to swing into the wind like a weathervane.

If this type of landing gear becomes standard equipment—and experiments so far indicate it is entirely successful—large, variable-wind airports will be outmoded unless the runways are so laid out that they can be used simultaneously. It also will mean that radar and other electronic installations can be simplified.

The CAA's vast postwar improvement program, scheduled to require seven years, is just getting started. It is fortunate that the possibilities of cross-wind landing gear were fully explored before huge sums were poured into projects which would be obsolete before completion.

AERIAL VIEW OF BURNING INDUSTRIAL PLANTS and nearby residential and business areas in Texas City, Tex., following yesterday's devastating blasts. (International News Soundphoto.)

AIR VIEW

camp exploded yesterday morning.

White pillars sticking up from the ghastly wreckage bear a startling resemblance to row after row of military graves. And many do mark the death agony of scores of men whose bodies can never be recovered.

A light wind ripples the muddy waters of Galveston Bay, but there is no trace of the Grandcamp or the High Flyer, a second nitrates-carrying vessel that exploded early this morning.

The waves have swallowed ships, cargo and crewmen completely.

The fires are threatening high-octane storage tanks that can turn the whole area instantly into one colossal Roman candle. On the ground small groups of men, recovering the dead, are also preparing to set off demolition blasts if necessary to try to save the rest of the city of 15,000.

Wind In Right Direction

So far the wind luckily is blowing the heat, smoke, fumes and flames south from the stricken industrial area and away from the residential section. A change in the wind might cost thousands of families their homes, as the flames already have taken their livelihood.

Only a few cars move slowly along the silent, sunlit streets. Soldiers patrol against looters, waving up occasionally at planes overhead.

The empty homes—their owners evacuated—stand in lonely red-roofed beauty like white-walled toys. Those nearest the devastation have shattered windows, and their yards are littered with debris. Those on the outskirts bear no signs of the tremendous blasts.

The line of major damage is strikingly marked, as if it had been done by perfect precision bombing.

"Shrapnel" Lies About

Chunks of steel—similar to bomb-blown shrapnel in wartime—lie in street and yard. One chunk the size of an avacado pear, an airplane attendant said, smashed through the window of a moving car and killed the driver and his wife.

Cows and horses, the only sign of life in the green fields, graze peacefully. They have forgotten their panic of yesterday. In one field an abandoned tractor stands, its plow furrow in the soil uncompleted like a sentence in an unfinished letter.

These fires may burn on for days or weeks. The stunned city is as yet helpless against them. It can only wait and hope.

In four years of war coverage I have seen no concentrated devastation so utter except Nagasaki in Japan, victim of the second atom bomb.

The damage along the waterfront of Texas City exceeds in intensity that inflicted on Bari, Italy, in the fall of 1943 when German bombers hit that port and 17 vessels went up in flames, including three ammunition ships whose titanic explosions killed hundreds of American troops and Italian civilians.

General Motors Head Calls for Price Cut

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 17—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., charman of the board of General Motors Corp., says that industry should cut prices even at the expense of profits, but is limited in doing this by continuel demands for higher wages.

Sloan, speaking before the Economic club of New York at its 181st dinner last night, said that setting of a national wage pattern would result in increasing prices still further, delay adjustment of the national economy, increase possibility of a recession "and intensify it should it come."

NEW BLASTS

silent. Some grimaced with pain. They huddled under their brown army blankets.

Two Boy Scouts held a blanket to shield Harold Keith, 20, rescue worker from Goose Creek, Texas, whose leg was sliced by falling steel.

No Room Under Car

"I tried to crawl under a car," Keith said, "but there were too many already under it. There wasn't enough room for me."

William Bankhead, another volunteer, stood by the cot of his injured buddy, James Nicholson. Both live at Houston.

"We were 100 yards from the ship when it blew up," Bankhead said. "The explosion knocked me down and I rolled under an automobile when the stuff stopped falling I looked out and saw a lot of men lying on the ground.

Mrs. Clay Martin, 38, Houston nurse, circulated among the patients. She went on working in spite of eight broken ribs by jagged shrapnel. All day long she had been in the dock area, distributing coffee and sandwiches and treating the inflamed eyes of firemen burned by the thick smoke and gases.

"It rained steel out there," she told me wearily. "It was awful. A man near me got an eye knocked out. Another fellow got a foot cut off. I'm darned lucky to get out with broken ribs."

Ignores New Wound

Mrs. Hallie Berg of Port Arthur, Texas, who too had been helping at the docks all day, assisted the newly injured despite a new wound.

Still on his feet was J. E. Kent, Houston police sergeant.

"I was directing traffic near the docks," he said, "just a few minutes before the ship went up. I received a warning to evacuate everyone. I yelled the warning to the workers. I guess there were 100 of them. They started coming out. Then she went off.

"I slid under a car. The concussion cost me most of what hair I had left."

Rescue workers are back at work in the dock area. Five minutes after today's blasts, embalmers were back at their jobs in a downtown garage building.

The dead lie on benches and tables. They are embalmed, and identified numbered tags are wired to their toes and then they are carried to the temporary morgue, the high school gymnasium which still contains the wilted decorations of a school party.

Wrapped in army blankets, the dead lie on the sanded gymnasium floor, sanded because of the bloodstains.

They do not lie in rows. There is no pattern among the dead in the gymnasium.

TRUMAN READY TO CLOSE 3 AGENCIES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—President Truman was reported readying an executive order today to wipe out three major wartime emergency agencies and transfer rent controls from OPA to the housing expediter.

Officials familiar with a tentative draft of the order said it will complete liquidation of the office of price administration, the civilian production administration and the office of war mobilization and reconversion.

It also would put the skids under the office of temporary controls, the agency set up last December to start the liquidation process.

Budget bureau officials said the order "may be issued today or tomorrow."

Congress already had tabbed OTC and its sub-groups for liquidation by June 30. By issuing the executive order quickly, the President could beat that deadline by weeks.

Also Mr. Truman could put into effect ahead of a final congressional vote one change favored by the senate banking committee. This is a proposal to shift rent control activities from OPA to the office of Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon.

It further would have the effect of eliminating OPA, as such, from debate over the rent control extension legislation.

However, the house banking committee is debating a bill to repeal the Patman emergency housing act, which is administered by Creedon's office, and put rent controls on a local basis.

HALF OF THIS FAMILY WERE KILLED in the Texas City, Tex., explosion which was the worst explosion in the history of Texas.

Phone Strike No Bar To Inventive Romeo

By The Associated Press

APPLETON, Wis., April 16—The telephone strike is no romantic hardship to James Richards of Wilmette, Ill., and his favorite co-ed at Lawrence college.

Long before the strike started, Richards had rigged up a private telephone line from his fraternity house room to the dormitory room of Miss Betty Van Horne of Glencoe, Ill. That solved Richards' annoyance at getting busy signals on the line instead of Betty. It also spared him the necessity of carrying nickels for the toll slot.

Richards says traffic on his line has increased since the strike. His Beta Theta Pi brothers are dating more of the dormitory girls with greater frequency.

Fishing's Fine and You Can Have It, Says Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—There is a strange fever this time of year that runs through this city of pent-up millions and seizes more victims than a plague in Cathay.

Hal Boyle

It is the annual subway circuit urge to go deep sea fishing.

"Let's charter a boat," some busybody suggests to helpless co-workers in ten thousand skyscraper offices.

And straightway the palefaces decide to go down to the sea again—to the lonely sea and the sky aboard a rolling boat with a couple that have struggled on without them all winter long.

Two things the Lord never gave me were a rich uncle or a desire to go fishing a calm, healthy, harmless and free exercise. I like fishermen too. I will listen to them tell tall tales for hours and never doubt a word.

No Desire To Fish

But I have no desire to go fishing with them. And that brings up the only thing wrong with all the fishermen I know: sooner or later they invite me to come along. They love to inflict their sport on unbelievers. And you can't escape them.

So I know that some balmy morn soon I will have to subway out to Sheepshead bay or catch a fisherman's special on the Long Island railroad and clamber aboard a rolling boat with a couple dozen other dime store whalers.

It happens every year when German submarines aren't off the coast.

The last time I was trapped into a fishing expedition I didn't get seasick for fifteen minutes—par for Sheepshead bay. The small sailing craft didn't smash through the waves like a sensible ship. It rolled and wallowed, pitched and bobbed, rocked like an uneven playground swing.

Need Beer, Sandwich

"What you need is something on your stomach," said a nature lover. He handed me a glass of warm sudsy beer and a mushy ham sandwich with pickle. That finished what the boat had begun.

The rest of the day I spent swallowing my stomach as it shuddered up and down my spinal column like a jerky elevator. U-u-p, down; up, dow-w-n U-u-u-u-p, dow-w-w-w-w-n'

Beneath the troubled surface the fish swam about unseen, serene, peaceful. I envied them as I dropped my baited hook into their twilight world. I would gladly have bitten on a hook myself if somebody would just let me down gently over the side and never haul me back into that boat.

"Look! You got two fish caught on one hook!" said one fisherman at midday. "Some fishing, boy!"

"Wonderful," I agreed straightening up from the other side of the boat where I had been feeding mannie life free for fifteen minutes.

Then it came time to go home—there were at least two dozen fish aboard. The fishermen started to toss them away. I objected.

"I don't eat the darn things," said one man. "I just like to pull them in."

So two hours later I staggered up my home stairs—sun-blistered, exhausted—carrying the entire catch in a wet gunny sack.

"Didn't you leave any in the ocean for next week?" asked my sympathetic wife.

For six days running she served me fish—baked fish, fried fish, broiled fish, stewed fish. I was beginning to breathe through my ears in the bath. Cats rubbed up against me on the street and howled outside our windows at night. The neighbors suggested we take an apartment in the Fulton fish market.

Please don't anybody invite me to go deep sea fishing this year.

Guest Day Observed By Club at Wyandot

Guest day was observed by the Treasure Hunters club when the members met recently at the Wyandot school. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Harry Stumbo and Mrs. Chester Lust. A paper on the origin of several hymns, prepared by Mrs. Marjorie Huddle, was read by Mrs. Elmer Myers, a picture, "Frozen Freshness," was shown by Milo Gould, and Miss Betty Grooks, home demonstration agent in Wyandot county, gave a talk. A guessing box, prepared by Mrs. Thelma Myers, was won by Mrs. Irma Myers. The next meeting, May 1, will be a Mother's Day program at 8 p. m. at Greenwood inn in Marion.

Guests were Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. Clyde Parks, Mrs. Nellie Bibler, Miss Betty Brooks, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Ray Brooks, Mrs. Carrie Van Buskirk, Mrs. Tom Dohmer, Mrs. John Hite, Mrs. Wilda Hite, Mrs. Amos Hite and Mrs. Bob Walters.

"DEAR RUTH" PICKED AMONG BEST PLAYS

Comedy To Be Given at Palace Theater April 25.

"Dear Ruth," the Broadway stage comedy to be presented on the stage of the Palace for one performance on Friday, April 25, has been chosen by Burns Mantle, dean of New York drama reviewers, to be included in his annual publication, "The Ten Best Plays of the Season."

From among some 300 plays produced each year in New York, Burns Mantle has, for the last 25 years, selected what, in his authoritative judgment he considers the 10 best.

The other nine plays so honored with "Dear Ruth" are "Harvey," "The Glass Menagerie," "Soldier's Wife," "A Bell for Adano," "The Hasty Heart," "The Late George Apley" and "Foolish Notion."

Other critics, too, were high in their praise of the play. Reported Lewis Nichols of the New York Times "Dear Ruth is a delightful comedy. No prophet is needed to set down odds that it will run at least until the end of the next generation."

Ward Morehouse, writing for the New York Sun said "For me the strongest appeal lies in its moments of subtlety . . . It reveals the theater in a happy stage. Dear Ruth's in the money."

Walter Winchell, who is notoriously tough as a critic expressed his enjoyment of "Dear Ruth" by stating "It will keep them laughing for 30 years."

Reserved seat tickets for the one performance are on sale at the Palace.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Veterans' Bonus Payment OK'd For Passage by Ohio Senate

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—A $300,000,000 veterans' bonus payment proposal was recommended to the Ohio senate today for passage.

Approved without dissent by the senate military affairs committee, the plan would pay $10 a month for domestic service and $15 for overseas duty between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, veterans with the rank of captain or below.

The maximum payment would be $400.

Ninety days of service would be required to be eligible for payments, except that those discharged before that length of time because of service injuries would get a minimum of $20.

Heirs of service men who died between Pearl Harbor and V-J days would receive $400.

Bonds Retired In 15 Years

Bonus bonds would be retired in 15 years by $1,000,000 monthly from the state's general revenue fund and an additional tax on real estate.

The proposal varied somewhat from one submitted by a subcommittee to the house military affairs committee.

That program would provide flat $10 monthly payments for service between the same dates to captains and below. The maximum would be $400 and the minimum $50 for at least 90 days service.

Bonds would be retired by the following extra taxes: one-cent a pack on cigarets, 50-cents a gallon on whisky, 20-cents a gallon on wine, 3-cents a gallon on beer and 4-cents a gallon on soft drinks. The balance would be made up from additional realty levies, if needed.

Limits Assessment

The house taxation committee reported out a bill, part of its local government aid program, limiting special assessment of bonds to one-third the duplicate value of the property assessed.

Committee members scheduled a meeting with Gov. Thomas J. Herbert to decide on other portions of the program designed to increase subsidies from $21,000,000 to $25,000,000 annually, plus the right to levy amusement admissions taxes locally. Now collected by the state, amusement levies netted about $3,000,000 last year.

The senate passed 30 to 1 and sent to the house a bill by Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R-Summit) extensively revising Ohio election laws.

Besides increasing pay of election officials, the measure provides for grouping independent candidates together on the ballot under a column separate from regular party aspirants, rotation of group candidates' names on general election ballots as well as primary lists, and requires residence in the county and precinct 40 days to be eligible to vote, in addition to one year residence in the state.

Board Pay Increased

The pay of election board members would be increased from $12 to $25 for each full 1,000 of the first 100,000 county population, with the maximum boosted from $4,200 to $4,500.

Clerks would get top pay boosts of $75 monthly in counties of more than 150,000 population and $50 in smaller counties. Deputy clerks would receive maximum increases of $50 a month and other employes $45.

The house education committee heard additional proponents advocate passage of the senate-approved Daniels-Cramer school bill without any reductions in its proposed $88,000,000-a-year subsidy. Speakers included Edward C. Ames, president of the Toledo board of education.

The senate completed approval of a proposed U. S. constitutional amendment to limit presidents to two four-year terms.

The senate also passed measures to allow insurance firms to invest five per cent of their assets in low rent housing projects, and to designate route 42 as the "42nd Rainbow Division Memorial Highway."

Aid To Societies Set

County historical societies would be permitted to receive up to $15,000 in financial assistance from counties, depending on population, without being affiliated with the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society under another senate-approved bill.

Measures introduced would create a commission to study classification and pay of state employes, require vendors to make tax returns to the state treasurer instead of the tax commissioner, and allow two or more political subdivisions to operate a public airport.

Gubernatorial appointments confirmed by the senate were: Phillip Le Boutillier of Wood county to the aviation board for a term ending in 1952, Warren G. Grimes of Champaign county to the aviation board for a term ending in 1949, and William R. Roberts of Belmont county to the bureau of unemployment compensation's board of review for a term ending in 1953.

The house passed and sent to the senate proposals to modernize laws governing operation of dry cleaning and dyeing establishments, eliminating the requirement for county auditors to notify realty owners before revaluing property, and changing from the second Monday in September to the first Monday in August the date for the state board of tax appeals to meet for equalizing property assessments.

Another measure would give Akron municipal court descretion in determining jurors' fees.

A resolution paying tribute to former Gov. Martin L. Davey also was adopted by the house. It was sponsored by Rep. Thomas J. Barrett (D-Mahoning).

Delaware Co. Fire Takes Second Life

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., April 17—The toll of a fire which razed the caretaker's house on Ohio Wesleyan university's Butler farm and killed 12-year-old Ruth Ellen Bell had risen to two today with the death of Edgar Bell, 49, the girl's father and farm caretaker.

Bell died last night in Jane M. Case hospital here. A son, Charles Bell, 21, received burns about the face and hands but is in fair condition.

The little girl was trapped in her second-floor bed.

The flames sprang from an explosion yesterday following the elder Bell's use of kerosene in the kitchen stove.

HIGHWAY PICKET LINE STAYS AT GARAGE

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, O., April 17—Picket lines around the strike-plagued state highway garages at Jackson and Oak Hill held fast today and union steward John T. Claar said 22 more garage employes had been dismissed by the state highway department.

Claar, chief steward for Local 1036 of the Ohio Council of Highway Workers, said no reasons were given for the discharge of seven unclassified laborers and 15 classified workers.

The dismissals have not been announced by the highway department.

Both garages, said Claar, are locked up and no one is passing the picket lines.

"We are going to keep on picketing until we get some action from Governor Herbert or Highway Director Murray Shaffer," Claar declared.

The union steward, who earlier termed the strike a job security strike and asserted today that only seven veteran employes remained in the Jackson garage, said the latest dismissals brought to 31 the number of discharges since April 1.

On that date, he said, the highway department laid off five classified workers and four laborers.

The pickets were engaged in division nine's third walkout in recent weeks. The current incident began Tuesday.

NEW PROBLEM REPORTED BY SECOND HAND DEALER

Phone Call Sets Stage for Profitable Purchase.

A new dodge to victimize unwary shopkeepers has appeared in Marion, according to local law enforcement officials.

A dealer in second-hand goods reported Wednesday he had received a telephone call earlier in the week from a man who said he wanted a record player.

"It doesn't matter what kind it is. If it doesn't play, that's all right too. I'm handy and can fix it," the man said.

So when the following day a fellow came into the store with a broken-down old player, the storekeeper jumped at the chance for a nice profit and bought the machine. Then he called the number the prospective buyer had given. It turned out to be that of another person who knew nothing about the "deal."

Becoming suspicious, the dealer traced the man who had sold him the player and further investigation revealed he was also the one who had made the telephone call.

But the dealer is hooked, officials say. How can he charge the man with fraud when he paid him what he thought the record player was worth?

Rummage Sale Is Set By Lutheran Classes

The Emanuel Lutheran Bible classes met Tuesday night at the church. Plans were made for a rummage sale in May and talks on the church building program were given by Raymond Roecker and Rev. M. E. Hollensen. Mrs. William Boger conducted devotions.

For the program, a piano solo was given by Miss Wanda McMahan, two trombone solos were presented by Robert Baughman, accompanied by Miss McMahan, and two vocal duets were given by Mrs. Claude McClaskey and Raymond Roecker. Their accompanist was Mrs. William Ackerman.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Miss Matilda Laucher, chairman, Mrs. Albert Baughman, co-chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Claude McClaskey, Mrs. Louise Simms, Mrs. David Croft, Miss McMahan, Mr. and Mrs. John Barkley and Mrs. Noah Lutz.

RADIO STATION FOR FARMERS ONLY SET

Farm Bureau's WRFD on Air in 60 Days.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—Construction of a new radio station intended to serve only farmers will be started within a few days, officials of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation announced today.

The station, to be operated by the Peoples Broadcasting Co., which was organized by the Farm Bureau, will be located on a 260-acre tract 15 miles north of Columbus in Delaware county. Studios will be in surburban Worthington.

Edgar Parsons, station manager, said officials hoped to have the station, which will have call letters WRFD, on the air within 60 days.

James H. West of Perry, a farm bureau director and president of the broadcasting company, said daily schedules would "revolve around four main elements — news, markets, group discussions, and wholesome entertainment."

He added that long range plans called for "the development of the radio farm into a rural community center where farm folk from all over the country can hold all types of recreational and educational activities."

The federal communications commission granted the company a permit recently.

QUIZ COLUMBUS MAN IN DEATH OF NEPHEW

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—A 32-year-old former army paratrooper, Thomas Marion Craft, was questioned today in connection with the death of his year-old nephew, Stephen J. Killeen.

Capt. Glen C. Hoffman, chief of Columbus detectives, and Detective Lieut. Arthur Loudenslager said that Craft had admitted killing the baby in the bathroom of his home yesterday by forcing a rubber shower extension hose down Stephen's throat and turning on the water.

They said formal charges had been withheld pending further investigation but quoted Craft, a baker, as saying he killed the child because he had "a big load on my head and have worried about expenses."

Craft, himself the father of three children, said that he had borne expenses of purchasing a home, plus costs of maintaining his own family, Stephen, and the infant's mother, Maxine Killeen, a sister-in-law, Hoffman reported.

Hoffman quoted Craft as relating that he took Stephen to the bathroom to wash his face after the child soiled his shirt while crying at the luncheon table.

"For some unknown reason I lost my head," Hoffman quoted him.

Police said that as a paratrooper with the 82nd Airborne division Craft participated in four major European engagements. He was employed on a night shift at a bakery here, they reported.

PROGRAM PRESENTED AT PENSION SOCIETY MEETING

Speaker Is Rev. Spencer of New Bloomington.

A program of music and talks was presented at a meeting of the Old Age Pension Society of Marion County Friday afternoon in the Eagles' hall. A patriotic service and devotions opened the meeting.

Music included a song by the choir, "Wonderful Peace," a duet, "When the Saints Go Marching On," by W. E. Sergent and Christian Ruth, a duet, "To Save a Poor Sinner Like Me," by Rev. E. L. Spencer, pastor of the New Bloomington Methodist church and Rev. Dennis Matherlee, pastor of the First Wesleyan Methodist mission, and a solo, "He's My King," by Rev. Spencer who played his own accompaniment on the guitar.

Arthur Hershner, president, read a letter from the Washington legislative bureau stating that Senator Alexander Wiley was making immediate demand for action on an adjustment of the social security system. Rev. Matherlee, guest speaker, based his talk on verses from the 15th chapter of Jeremiah and told his listeners that there are those who are too lazy to be a good Christian. There is no substitute for the Word, he continued, and if you get old fashioned religion and know and do the things required by the Word you will have a new outlook on life, a new relation with your God.

The meeting closed with a song, "I Want to be Popular with Jesus," by Rev. Spencer, and a song by the choir, "Love Lifted Me." The closing prayer was by Rev. Spencer.

A report of members who are ill was given by William Porter.

Guard Co. Members See Legion Post Film

Members of Co. C, Ohio National Guard, saw a moving picture on the bringing back of war dead at their weekly meeting Wednesday night.

The film, entitled "Decision," was shown in the club rooms of American Legion Post No. 584.

Following the showing, the company returned to the armory where close order drill and school of a soldier were given under direction of Lt. William Bogart and Lt. Louis Snively.

Capt. Robert F. Melby said ratings are still available in the company, and veterans may be eligible, no matter which branch of the service in which they had training.

Stricken City Endangered Anew

Flyer blew up he had ordered 400 rescue workers out of the dock area and that only 50 men were in the area at the time of the explosion.

Officials were watching closely the progress of rescue workers who for the first time since shortly after yesterday morning's explosions, penetrated the Monsanto Chemical Company plant, located in the immediate vicinity of the initial explosion on the French vessel, the Grandcamp.

Few Employes Found

Only a comparatively small number of the 800 employes of the company reportedly have been located.

Collection station attendants expressed fear the chemical company death toll might push fatalities above the 1,000 mark.

Only police, military personnel and relief workers were permitted to remain in the city last night.

An estimated 500 policemen, 250 troops and 250 special deputies were patroling streets.

Danger of chlorine was reported to be slight, in that the only known gases at the Monsanto plant were styrene, propane and butane. Thousands of homeless residents were taken out of the city by army trucks, buses, special trains, and private cars to points as far away as Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange, near the Louisiana-state line.

Police reported only two arrests for looting of wrecked stores in the downtown area.

Chief of Police W. L. Ladish said that only essential personnel would be permitted to remain here today and no one would be permitted to enter the area except on official and essential business.

No One In Town

"No man will get into town Thursday unless he has emergency business here," Ladish said.

Throughout the night relief workers searched the waterfront ruins for dead and injured. Whites and Negroes carried stretchers bearing the dead.

Priests, some wearing gas masks as protection from poisonous gases from burning chemical company plants read services for each body as it was brought into the ambulance area. Some of the trucks pulled away with bodies stacked four and five deep.

Scores of bodies are piled on benches and tables in a midtown garage in a nearby school gymnasium.

Dozens of embalmers were at work in the garage as people gathered outside in expressionless groups.

Police cars with public address systems broadcast instructions to rescue crews, warning against looting and smoking and calling for "blankets, sheets, coverages."

Touches Off Chain

A fire aboard the French freighter Grandcamp which was taking on a load of nitrates at pier two touched off the chain of waterfront explosions yesterday.

W. H. Waring, vice president of the Texas City Terminal Railway Company, who had left the Grandcamp five minutes before she blew up, said the fire was discovered aboard the ship early in the morning.

Firemen fought the blaze with water and steam, but were unable to get it under control, Waring said. It was decided to tow the vessel out into the bay, but before the ship could be gotten away from her berth, she suddenly blew up. That was at 9:12 a. m.

Seconds later terrific explosions wrecked the Monsanto Chemical Company's plant, 700 feet to the north, and the nearby Stone Oil Company's refinery.

"I was working in a warehouse 25 yards from the ship when it blew up," Philip Flores, a young army veteran, said. "The concussion knocked me down. I crawled over to some flour sacks and buried my head under them. Then a few seconds later the (Monsanto) chemical plant exploded.

Roof Falls On Him

The roof and the walls of the warehouse were coming down around me. I got up and ran for my life. Later I helped pull the bodies out of the wreckage. It was the most terrible thing I've ever seen."

One man who worked in the chemical plant and lived through the explosion told this story:

"I was getting ready to leave one of the buildings in the chemical plant when the ship exploded. It knocked me down. I got up and tried to run. Just as I did the chemical plant blew up. The walls and roof came down around me and knocked me out. It was pitch dark when I came to. I'll never know how I got out. I'm a lucky guy to be alive."

J. K. Poage, engineer of radio station KTRH, who was about 25 miles away from the waterfront said he saw a flame shoot high into the sky and disappear after a few seconds. It was followed by a big column of smoke shaped like a toad stool. Some persons said they saw a ball of fire that seemed to hang in the sky a minute or more after the chemical plant exploded.

Galveston Suffers Damage

Buildings were damaged in Galveston, 12 miles away, on the other side of the bay. The shock of the concussion was felt in Palestine, Tex., 150 miles away and in Port Arthur and Orange, 100 miles away.

Hundreds of people had been attracted to the waterfront by the fire aboard the Grandcamp. The death toll among these people and workmen in the two plants was heavy.

The scene in Texas City was one of chaos. The concussion of the explosions blew in windows and damaged buildings. Stone buildings in the center of town were leveled. People walked about in a daze.

Highways and causeways were blocked as residents of Texas City who worked in Galveston hurried to their homes and loved ones.

An hour after the explosion a reporter of the Houston Chronicle flew over the area and reported that three fires were burning.

The largest fire was in the industrial area along the bay, scene of the explosion. The second fire was in buildings along the Santa Fe railroad tracks. A third fire burned fiercely in the oil refinery area. Neither the city's residential nor business areas were on fire.

Doctors, nurses, government and relief agencies quickly responded to the call of Mayor J. C. Trahan for help. Many started for the city without waiting for a call.

AGREE ON SAFETY, DIFFER ON METHODS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—Both labor and management were on record today as heartily favoring industrial safety programs—but neither side agreed that the other had the right idea about handling such matters.

Going into final day sessions of the 17th annual all Ohio safety congress here, the conference considered divergent views voiced sharply divided by spokesmen for labor and management yesterday.

Represented by H. A. Bradley, of Akron, president of the International Chemical Workers union (AFL) and Jacob Clayman, Columbus attorney for the Ohio CIO Council, the labor side asserted that management generally refused to accept union cooperation in mapping safety programs.

He also drew a quick retort from E. M. Tharp, vice president and general manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., when he discussed labor's interest in halting "industrial slaughter and maiming."

Tharp responded that the use of "hard works like slaughter" served to divide persons, organizations and nations. The primary consideration, Tharp said, should be "getting human beings to organize into a big team" if safety programs were to be advanced successfully.

Clayman supported Bradley's contentions that workers were not often asked to share in a safety program, adding that he felt "workers are not seriously welcomed in this safety congress."

Antioch Head Denies Any Political Viewpoint

By The Associated Press

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., April 17—The statement that Antioch college supported no political point of view was made today by Vice President W. B. Alexander, answering assertions made in Columbus Tuesday that a staff member had been identified by the Dies committee as an active Communist.

"Antioch college will not hire or retain a professor who is a Communist because Communists put their party before their country," Alexander declared.

H. W. Binegar of Dayton told the Ohio senate education committee Tuesday that Antioch should be included in any legislative inquiries into alleged un-American activities.

7 UNDER FEDERAL JURY INDICTMENTS

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., April 17—Seven persons were under federal grand jury indictments here today, including Miss Dale Frederick, also known at Dale Rutledge of Royal Oak, Mich., named on a charge of selling counterfeit sugar ration stamps.

The jury headed by Foreman William P. Laudann of Lima yesterday returned the Rutledge indictment after Gerald P. Openlander, assistant U. S. district attorney, said that the woman was accused of selling 8,000 counterfeit stamps for $7,200 to Adam Grismer of Lima, and also several thousand dollars worth to Henry Hintz of Toledo.

Other indictment charged:

J. Robert D. Smith, Toledo manufacturers agent, with attempting to defraud the government of $48,629 in income tax.

Peter Bonakowski of Swanton, O., and Ralph E. Tucker, of Toledo, with proceeding with construction after their applications were denied by the civilian production administration.

Robert E. Rife, of Wright Field, O., with stealing a $108 government check;

Jennie C. Pringle, of Cleveland, with forging and cashing a $200 government bond; and Harry Ellis, Vermillion, O., charged with mailing obscene pictures.

SENATOR SAYS GREEK AID REPUDIATES UN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—Senator Hawkes (R-NJ) contended today that President Truman's Greek-Turkish aid proposal has "repudiated the membership responsibilities of the United States in the United Nations."

As the senate drove toward final action on the $400,000,000 assistance bill next Tuesday, Hawkes said "it seems incredible to me that the United States, having spent so much time in helping to organize the United Nations, should now choose to play a lone hand in the international arena."

In an address prepared for floor delivery, the New Jersey senator proposed first that the United Nations membership be polled on "whether they approve of the course we are going to take before we embark on it."

He urged that an attempt then be made to reorganize the UN "in such a way that one nation, with the power of veto and an insatiable desire for expansion, is not allowed to block the peace of the world."

Robinson Appointed to House Committee

Kenneth A. Robinson, Marion county representative, is one of the three house members named to a committee to study the municipal court system in Ohio, The Associated Press reported today. Other members of the committee are John A. Corlett of Cuyahoga county and A. G. Lancione of Belmont county. Robinson and Corlett are Republicans and Lancione is the Democratic member.

The committee will study the court system with a view to recommending to the general assembly whether it should be enlarged or contracted. The committee appointments were made by House Speaker C. William O'Neill of Washington county. Mr. Robinson is serving his first term in the assembly.

U. S. To Wait 24 Hours Before Strike Action

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and his top conciliators indicated today they will hold off another 24 hours before making any new move to end the telephone strike.

"We'll see what develops from the company and union first," said one key figure in the federal efforts to unsnarl the nationwide tie-up, now in its eleventh day.

Both the striking National Federation of Telephone Workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company—parent of the Bell system—held aloof from Schwellenbach's plan for arbitrating the scores of local issues and 10 basic demands which led to the strike.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Great Bunch —Those Ex-G.I.'s

Willie Wells and a bunch of the boys from our town went to Pound Ridge Saturday to a reunion of their old regiment.

There were about two hundred and fifty boys who came from miles around to a good old feast in Farmer Collins' barn. I expect they seemed a lot different to each other out of uniform. But they had a great time, spinning yarns, drinking beer, and talking over the old times in South Africa and Italy and the Aleutians.

I went over to cover the meeting for the Clarion, and one thing that sure impressed me was the good behavior of those boys—their preference for a moderate beverage like beer—their friendly spirit.

From where I sit, our ex-G.I.'s are making as good a showing in peacetime as they made during the war. And they're setting a mighty good example to the rest of us—in tolerance, and moderation, and good fellowship.

Capacity Audience Hears Radio Group

A capacity audience at Thomas A. Edison Junior High school auditorium Tuesday night heard the harmonizers, musicians from radio station WLW, their director, Raglan Reid, and pianist, Harold Clark, in a varied program of song. The concert was sponsored by the Marion Business and Professional Women's club.

Several encores were called for by the audience and the singers who took solo parts each received generous ovations. A piano solo was done by request by the accompanist following the intermission, and the director was featured in a vocal solo part in one number. For curtain call encores at the end of the scheduled program's closing theme song, "Old Man River," the group sang two numbers and ended by repeating the opening theme song, "Get on Board."

In a manner all their own, the group interpreted their specialty, the Negro spirituals and folk songs of their race, and presented their own version of several popular ballads and two hymn numbers. Mostly in humorous vein, their singing was accompanied by appropriate gestures. They easily made the transition from the humorous to the more serious love songs and the hymns, however. Outstanding were the solo parts of the "sweet" tenor who in falsetto imitated "Lil' Liz," and the bass soloist. The repertoire included besides the theme songs "I'll Be Ready," "Round the Bend of the Road," "Oh Look Away Into Heaven"; "Little David, Play on Your Harp," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Dry Bones," "Joshua Fit the Battle," "All God's Children," an encore; "Deacon Jones," "Lil' Liz, I Love You," "Let the Church Roll On," encore; "Tea for Two," "Oh That It Seemed To Be," request, "My Blue Heaven," Anniversary Song," two novelty numbers including "Open the Door Richard"; "Softly and Tenderly," "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me"; "Live Humble," "Didn't It Rain"; and "The Sun Did Shine on Calvary's Mountain," and "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet," encores.

Even Fires in N. Y.'s Swank Hotel Blaze In Grand Manner

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 17—Up in the tower apartments of the Waldorf Astoria, the most elite part of that elite hostelry, they had a fire yesterday morning, and even it was in the grand manner.

A distinguished game of gin rummy was interrupted, a fireman somewhat dramatically rescued $200,000 worth of jewels, a $2,000 mink coat was burned, and the Duke of Windsor helped lay the hose lines.

Baron Egmont Van Zuylen, a former Dutch diplomat, and his baroness were entertaining guests at gin rummy in their 36th floor five-room suite when the fire was discovered in a bedroom just before last midnight.

"And just at that time I held the best hand of the evening," Mrs. George Gregory told a reporter. Another guest was the Baroness de Rytsis.

An alarm was sounded throughout the hotel, and several guests came from nearby floors of the tower to help hotel employes wield hand extinguishers and lay hose lines, one being England's former king. Reporters did not see the Duchess of Windsor at the scene.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, was under control in 10 or 15 minutes.

CLASS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. G. F. Rubins and Miss Agnes Lutz were associate hostesses when the Elizabeth Dairy class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school met Monday night with Miss Catherine Turner of 420 South State street. Miss Lutz conducted the devotions and Mrs. L. E. Cookston read a paper, "Let's Inaugurate a Forgiving Day." Mrs. J. A. McDowell presided for a business session and appointed Miss Jeannette Powers, Mrs. R. H. Kester and Mrs. O. H. Gearhiser to serve as a program committee. Miss Powers to act as chairman. Miss Doris Emptage was in charge of contests. A hat trimming contest was won by Mrs. Zula Renwick. Other awards went to Mrs. John Gries, Mrs. J. H. Andrews, Mrs. Arden Groll and Mrs. Cookston. Daffodils and lighted candles decorated the refreshment tables where Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. Cookston presided. A meeting May 12 will be a covered dish dinner at the home of Mrs. Gail Van Gorden of the Edison pike.

FORD MAKES MORE FRONT OFFICE SHIFTS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 17 — The Ford Motor Co. yesterday announced additional shifts of administrative responsibilities as further steps toward a decentralized organization of the company.

Vice-president D. S. Harder has been designated as director of manufacturing, and Vice-president M. L. Bricker director of general production.

Harder will have responsibility for all manufacturing, assembly and related activities of the company throughout the country; Bricker will be responsible for the manufacture of parts, materials and equipment in the Rouge plant in nearby Dearborn as well as associated plants, and for providing contributory services such as power and maintenance required in production activities.

Creation of a new division known as the parts and equipment manufacturing division, to be headed by Roscoe M. Smith, also was announced. Smith, with Ford since 1916, will direct the section previously known as outlying plant operations. This includes small plants in the Detroit area as well as the Hamilton, O., and Green Island, N. Y., manufacturing units.

Ear Infections

EARACHE is so common, both in children and adults, that we should all learn a little about its sources and meaning.

Pain in the ear may be due to inflammation of either the external or the middle part of the ear, but, strangely enough, it may also be caused by disturbances elsewhere, for example, as in the sinuses. In fact, according to Dr. Samuel L. Fox of Baltimore, about half of the people who complain of earache have no diseased condition of the ear at all, but suffer from what is called "referred pain."

Certainly when the external ear canal is inflamed, pain is sure to follow. Usually inflammation in this region produces what is known as folliculitis or infection of the roots of the hair in the area. In some cases of external ear infection, there may be a more widespread inflammation. In either case the patient has severe pain in the ear which is made worse by lying on the ear or by moving the external part of the ear. As a rule there is no interference with hearing in external ear infections. Examination of the ear usually makes a definite diagnosis possible.

In treating external ear infections, Dr. Fox suggests that continuous hot, wet dressings be used. These will help to relieve the pain and limit the spread of the infection. He also urges that a piece of gauze moistened with a mixture of sulfathiazole and urea in glycerine, be packed rather tightly into the ear canal at the beginning of treatment. Dry heat is applied over the ear and more of the solution is added with a dropper every two or three hours to keep the gauze wet. This treatment serves as a continuous wet dressing while the sulfathiazole often helps to prevent the spread of the infection.

If any of the hair root infections come to a head they may be cut open and the infected material drained out. Unless they do come to a head, they should never be cut open as this will only tend to spread the infection.

Some physicians favor treatment of this condition also with ultraviolet rays or with X-ray. This may tend to reduce the pain somewhat and also to limit the spread of the condition. If the pain is quite severe, some pain-relieving preparation may be necessary.

Following the relief of the acute infection, an ointment containing ammoniated mercury is used in the ear canal daily by the patient for at least a week to help prevent recurrence. The patient is also warned to keep the ear canal dry. Furthermore, he should have the ear canal properly cleaned by a physician every four to six months, as this may also help to keep the infection from coming back.

Stork Far Ahead Of Grim Reaper in March

Births outnumbered deaths almost two to one in Marion city and county during March, health office records reveal.

A total of 131 babies were born while 62 persons died. Of the births, 69 were girls and 62 boys. Thirty women and 32 men died. Only one of the births was recorded in the county. Ten of the deaths were reported there. The remainder of the births and deaths were recorded by the city board of health.

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—Striking telephone workers seeking Ohio unemployment compensation won't be successful, the bureau of unemployment compensation indicated yesterday in deciding upon claims of seven cases now on file.

MAN WHO FEARED ROPE DIES IN CHAIR

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—Fred Wormack Jr., 23-year-old Cincinnati Negro who had not wanted to die by hanging, was executed last night in Ohio penitentiary's electric chair.

Wormack, steady and calm, prayed fervently, even as the shock of 2,200 volts took his life for the holdup slaying last June 21 of James (Buddy) White, Cincinnau taxicab driver.

Dr. J. B. C. Eckstorm, prison physician, pronounced Wormack dead four minutes after the charge stifled the condemned man's voice on a crescendo of prayer.

Wormack's father, Fred Wormack Sr., and Rev. D. E. Smith of Cincinnati, stood outside the death house while the young slayer was executed. The elder Wormack returned his son's body to Cincinnati for burial.

Rev. C. V. Lucier, prison Catholic chaplain, administered last rites.

Wormack's execution—Ohio's 251st—was scheduled originally for last Feb. 2. Appeals to the Ohio supreme court and the state pardons and paroles board were unavailing.

Just yesterday morning Gov. Thomas J. Herbert declined executive clemency after Wormack sought a further stay on a technicality that the shooting allegedly had occurred in northern Kentucky and that White's body was brought to Cincinnati and thrown in a ditch.

Asked why he had not sought trial in Kentucky originally, Wormack replied convicted slayers were executed by hanging there and "I wouldn't like that."

COUNTY CAGE TEAMS GUESTS AT DINNER

Caledonia Host at Annual Sports Banquet.

Players who participated in the county basketball wars last season were honored with a banquet Wednesday night with approximately 120 present.

As is customary the school which won the championship played host. This year it was Caledonia.

Attendance was limited to persons who were active in county basketball this year.

The principal speaker was Dale Porter, Martel coach.

High spots of the program were the presentation of two musical selections by a boys' quintet from Martel and readings given by three boys from Morral.

The members of the quintet were Bob Hickman, Danny Downs, Jim Downs, Walter Rhinehart and Raymond Pangborne.

They sang "Sweet Kentucky Babe" and "Old Aunt Jemima."

Boys from Morral giving readings were Jack Lill, Fred McCumber, and Bob Schertzer.

Don Burton, LaRue coach, gave a short talk and the program was concluded with the showing of sport movies.

It is estimated that for every American 241 pounds of paper products are consumed each year.

STEEL UNION SEEMS SET FOR WALKOUT

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 17—Stickers proclaiming "no contract, no work" are appearing on steel workers' automobiles these days and a few have even been plastered in the United Steel Workers offices here—possible portent of a major steel strike after April 30.

That's the expiration date of the present contract extension between the CIO union and the United States Steel Corp. the original pact ran out Feb. 15 but was extended by mutual agreement.

The Steel Workers, who have given no official blessing to the sticker campaign, explained the seals were brought here earlier in the week by Chicago members of the steelworkers' committee negotiating a new wage contract with "big steel."

The seals, borrowing a line often used by the nation's miners, read simply: "Deadline April 30—No Contract ..No Work"

An official pronouncement on the negotiation with U. S Steel and the other steel makers will be forthcoming next Monday through the union's wage and policy committee which will ratify proposals made by the executive committee Saturday and Sunday

The main question is: will there be a steel strike as the result of failure after three months to scratch the surface of demands and counter proposals?

Thus far, it seems unlikely that the negotiators will be able to break the impasse by April 30.

The magazine Iron Age reported a 50-50 chance" of a strike, saying negotiations between company and union "have produced nothing"

Sunday the quartet will sing at both morning and evening services at the Green Camp Baptist "Best Sunday of the Month Service." At 12 o'clock there will be a basket lunch and fellowship hour. Rev. Lester R. Kidd, pastor, will preach in the morning worship hour.

Stan Musial's batting lessons to Marty Marion have paid off with the first St Louis Cardinals' victory of the season

Coming up in the eighth inning of yesterday's only big league game, with the world champs sporting a slender 2-1 advantage over Cincinnati, Marion poled a two-run homer that assured George (Red) Munger of his first win

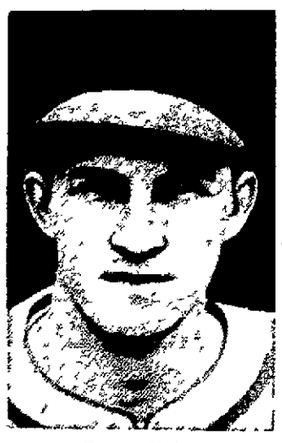
There have been years when Marion failed to hit a single homer in an entire campaign and he has hit only 17 out of the park in seven years Last year his average slumped way off to 233 and there were stories that Mr Shortstop was on the downgrade.

Catches Flaw In Stance

One day while Marion was taking batting practice in Florida, Musial, the 1946 batting king and most valuable player in the National league, caught a flaw in his stance.

"I think you would get a little more power if you didn't take such a wide stance," Musial advised his teammate "I don't want you to think I'm butting in but it's a little trick that has helped me"

MARTY MARION
Apt Pupil



STAN MUSIAL
Batting Teacher

Mr. Shortstop took the advice to heart, changed his stance and started hitting with more authority Now he's aiming for the fences

It has been a long time since Marion went 4 for 4 like he did yesterday off Cincinnati's rookie pitcher. Ed Erautt, when he bunched three singles with his clinching homer. Pee Wee Reese, Johnny Pesky, Buddy Kerr and Vern Stephens have been challenging his right to the name of Mr Shortstop but if he keeps up his long distance clouting there will be no contest.

Erautt Starts Well

Erautt appeared on his way to a shutout in his first major league start with a 1-0 lead on Eddie Miller's fifth inning home run One was out when the Pacific Coast league strikeout king ran into trouble.

Musial tied the score with his first hit of the year, a homer into the right field bleachers Enos Slaughter's double followed by Whitey Kurowski's single broke the tie After Dick Sisler forced Kurowski, Marion came through with his clout to provide the clincher, 4-1. That blow flattened Erautt and Clyde Shoun came on to lefthand the Cards into submission the rest of the way

George Munger allowed eight Cincy hits but scattered them to earn the first decision of what Manager Eddie Dyer predicts will be a 20-win season.

All other games in both major leagues were postponed because of bad weather

The Reds send Rookie Everet Lively to the mound today for the finale of the St. Louis series Eddie Dyer will use either Murry Dickson or Alpha Brazle

Harding Track Team Prepares For Ohio Wesleyan Relays Meet

The Harding track team is going through regular nightly d[rills] at Harding stadium in preparation for its first meet.

This will be the Ohio Wesleyan relays at Delaware a week from Saturday A meet had been planned at Upper Arlington yesterday but was cancelled. It was incorrectly reported in the Star Monday that the meet would be with Ashland A meet will be held at Ashland May 10

Track Coach Simpson has been working his band of candidates on all phases of the sport and hopes to develop form and ability in them by the time the relays

Experience Lacking

Simpson says the thing most lacking in this year's team is experience He says that not too much can be expected from them this spring.

The program should produce some marked results however Probably the best conditioning on a school's athletic menu the speed and coordination development gained is expected to cause improvement in both the school's football and basketball teams

Gridders Out for Track

All boys who plan to play football next season are working with the team and basketball Coach D N Bohyer has asked that all boys planning to play basketball next year also participate.

A squad of about 70 boys is [now] working out at the stadium and [Simpson] plans to hold time trials when conditions are right to determine who will represent the school in meets this spring.

Although experience is lacking Simpson has not ruled out the possibility that some stellar performers are to be found in the group working out.

NEW YORK, April 17—As a result of the liner Queen Elizabeth getting stuck in the mud, the United States Walker Cub golf team will be delayed a day in getting off for England Which recalls the capsule report on Tuesday's big news from Britain "The Queen Liz was pulled out of the mud and Bruce Woodcock was knocked into it." . . . The Athletics, who expanded their farm system from three to 12 clubs this year, are having plenty of trouble stocking them Report from one farm's training camp is "We're getting a good look at some of the nation's worst baseball talent here." . . . Dorsett (Tubby) Graves, long-time Washington baseball coach and now a member of the university's athletic executive staff, has been appointed associate steward for the summer race meet at the Longacres track Wonder how the NCAA "purists" look at that?

Today's Guest Star

Norris Anderson, Lincoln, Neb., Star. "On the Kansas State baseball team is a utility man named Al Sheriff . . They say he is especially good in a pinch."

Dots All, Brothers

Brendan and Jim Mackem both hope to make the Canadian Davis cup team this summer Bur Bren, older and better of the brothers, is only the No 4 player on the William and Mary college team

. Pants Rowland, Pacific Coast league prexy, had to apply the "silence" treatment to Sacramento Manager Dick Bartell as a result of rowdy Richard's beefing at the umpires . The script for the movie Doc Blanchard and Junior Davis plan to make this summer hasn't been prepared, but West Pointers are sure there'll be no love entanglements or other "soft" stuff . . . not with those hard gents

Without doubt tonight's wrestling card at the Marion Armory is the most colorful one ever signed here for it has an American born Jap, Mexican Indian, Italian and an American to headline the show.

It's a double main event card, both matches going over the ninety minute route, with the best two out of three falls to win. In the one bout Bull Montana, the big Italian from Salt Lake City who made Labell say "Uncle" last week will meet the Mexican Indian, Indio Yaqui. The other top bout is between the clever little Jap, Duke Keomuka and the equally clever Gordon Hessell, who calls Milwaukee his home. It's an action plus card and if you haven't called Markert & Lewis Cigar Store for your seats, call 2745 after 6 p m for ringside A ten-minute prelim will start things going at 8 30 —Adv.

Harding Diamond Crew Set For 3 Contests in 5 Days

At Ashland Tomorrow, At Galion Monday, At Home With Caledonia Tuesday.

Harding's diamond crew will see a lot of action in the next five days. Three games will be played if the weather is favorable.

The team is at Ashland Friday, plays at Galion Monday, and has a home game scheduled with Caledonia, Tuesday.

For the out of town trips Coach Wiley has announced that he will take 15 or 16 boys. New uniforms are expected to arrive in time for the team to be outfitted for the Ashland game. They will be white trimmed in scarlet.

Owens on Mound

For the Ashland game Jack Owens is expected to start on the mound and Ed Smeltzer will be started at Galion. Jim Ainey and Ed Roseberry will be carried to fill in at relief roles.

Wiley has announced the probable batting lineup at Ashland as Dave Kneisley or Don Zeisler behind the plate, John Courtright at first, Bill Mathias at second, Jim Riley at shortstop, Jim Hill at third, Dick Roseberry as utility infielder, Dick Riddle in left, Dick Huddle in center, Bob Ralston in right. Dick Thomas and Bill Virden as utility outfielders.

Thomas, a sophomore, saw considerable action at right field in Monday's game with Pleasant and looked good in both hitting and fielding However, Ralston was one of the big guns of the Harding attack last year and is expected to give the team more power at the plate.

Leading Prexie Batters

Dick Huddle is leading the Prexy batters so far having had a perfect day at the plate Monday. Ed Smeltzer, who works after school hours, may not be able to make the Ashland trip.

Tomorrow's game will be the second of the season for Harding. Their first start was a 12 to 6 win over Pleasant. Ashland and Harding have met in both football and basketball this season, Ashland winning every time. The Harding - Ashland games were however about the closest in which each school engaged.

Dayton Power Strike Halted at Last Minute

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., April 17—Public service continued without interruption here today following last night's eleventh hour settlement of a dispute between representatives of 600 city employes and city officials.

Dayton's five-man commission verbally agreed to grant employes, represented by the Dayton Public Service Union (AFL), a progressive pay increase scale which would permit wage boosts for seniority only during their first three years employment. After the third year, the commission and union agreed, further pay increases would be adjusted on a merit basis.

The commission limited all pay increases to a maximum 11½ cents-an-hour for wage workers and $20-monthly for salaried employes.

WEATHER COLD BUT RED BIRDS HOT TEAM

Columbus Wins Opener; Kansas City Comes from Behind.

By The Associated Press

The weather was cold in Kansas City and Columbus yesterday but the Blues, who finished in a tie for sixth place in the 1946 American association race, and the Red Birds, who finished last, were hot. Today they were leading the race after opening day victories.

A chilled crowd of 9,764 sat in 45 degree weather at Kansas City opened at home with an 8 to 4 triumph over St. Paul. At Columbus, before 1,911 shivering spectators, the Red Birds downed Indianapolis, 5 to 1.

Snow delayed the scheduled opening Louisville at Toledo game and wet grounds halted Minneapolis at Milwaukee.

St. Paul jumped off to a lead over Kansas City with four runs off Carl DeRose, star Blue right-hander, but Kansas City came back with a three-run blast off lefty Ed Weiland to drive him off the hill in the last half of the inning. The Blues then sewed up the decision with a five run splurge in the eighth.

Jack Griffore, Columbus pitcher, blanked Indianapolis until the ninth inning when Dutch Moran's double was followed by Stan Wentzel's single to account for the visitor's lone run. For the Red Birds, first baseman Mike Natisin's home run over the right field fence with Barney Olsen and Bill Howerton on base in the first inning sent Griffore off to a flying 3 to 0 start.

THE BABE SCORES AGAIN: While recuperating from his recent serious illness, Babe Ruth is shown in Miami Beach, Fla., with a 50-pound, 6-foot, 8-inch sailfish he caught after a 30-minute fight. The "old Bambino" made the catch on his first trip out into the Gulf Stream.

Mansfield Relays Set For Revival Session Saturday

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., April 17—Ohio's oldest independent high school cinder carnival, the Mansfield replays, is up for decision Saturday after a five-year lapse due to the war.

Director Harry E. Mehock, who founded the classic back in 1927 when only three schools participated, predicted today that between 60 and 70 teams, made up of close to 1,000 runners and jumpers, would take part in Saturday's events. The meet's biggest entry list came in 1939 when 110 schools and 1,500 boys competed.

This year's entry list, as of last night, was 40 teams and 815 athletes, with today and Friday still open for the filing of blanks.

Action starts tomorrow with a special four-mile run. Preliminaries in the 18-event Saturday schedule will be run off during the morning, with the finals in the afternoon.

Cleveland East Tech, victors in the last two Mansfield fixtures in 1940 and 1941, will be represented by 31 athletes, an entry topped only by Ashland's 32. Toledo Devilbiss, last year's state high school king, and Mansfield's 1945 champions, also will offer heavy contingents.

Eight Cleveland schools are among the early entrants, along with squads from Cincinnati, Akron, Toledo, Canton, Sandusky and other widely scattered spots.

A light year is the distance traversed by light in one year, which is more than 63,000 times the distance between the earth and the moon.

Scribes Throw Veeck Dinner

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 17—The boys who write pieces for the sports pages are tossing a party tonight for Bill Veeck, baseball's Barnum who hopes to parlay a cannon cracker, vaudeville acts and a sound knowledge of baseball into the second pennant in Cleveland's major league history.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, American league president Will Harridge and Ohio Gov. Thomas J. Herbert head a list of distinguished personages who will pay tribute to sport-shirt Bill as "Baseball's Man of the Year in Cleveland."

Some 500 fans and welf wishers will jam their way into a banquet hall at $10 per plate.

The turnstiles have clicked steadily ever since the 32-year-old ex-Marine took over as president of the Indians last June.

The Indians wound up in sixth place last year, but Veeck's promotional efforts brought the first million attendance figure in Cleveland's baseball history.

The Indians have an open date today and tomorrow morning will head for Detroit to help the Tigers stage their home opener. Manager Lou Boudreau has nominated Red Embree to hurl the series opener and will follow with Don Black Saturday.

Steady rains forced postponement of yesterday's game with the Chicago White Sox but Boudreau assembled his crew in the stadium to listen to an insurance company representative explain the working of the players' pension plan. A majority of them expressed their satisfaction and said they would make their payments.

Boudreau announced that pitcher Ray Flanigan had been returned to Baltimore of the International league on option.

DERBY TRACK FACES U. S. COURT ACTION

Churchill Downs Charged with Illegal Construction.

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 17—Charges that recent construction and repair work at Churchill Downs race track lacked government approval were referred to the U. S. district attorney here yesterday for criminal prosecution.

Bartlett K. Nutter, of Detroit, regional attorney for the office of housing expediter, said a criminal prosecution recommendation was included with evidence and complaints turned over to the district attorney's office.

Nutter listed eight separate complaints, including construction of betting booths, 10 special spectator boxes, and an addition to the press box.

Col Matt J. Winn, 86-year-old president of the Churchill Downs, said the new boxes were built to accommodate such guests at the Kentucky Derby as senators, congressmen and governors, and a delegation of "Egyptian potentates."

Recreation Board Maps Plans For Four Summer Playgrounds

Plans for opening four playgrounds in the city employment of two playground directors and discussion on the purchase of new playground equipment were among the items of business considered by the Marion recreation commission when it met Wednesday night in the school administration building on South Prospect street.

The commission voted to promote playground programs in McKinley, Lincoln and Garfield parks and at Glenwood school and set the opening date for June 9. The playgrounds will remain open through Sept. 1. Hours will be from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m. Mondays through Fridays and from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. on Saturdays.

Two recreation directors employed last night by the commission are Russell Dunlap, head of the commercial department at Harding High school, and Joseph Petrich, assistant Harding High school football coach. Both men have been recreation directors for the last three years. Mr. Dunlap served at Glenwood school and Mr. Petrich at Lincoln Park. Two other directors are yet to be employed. The directors will be paid by the city.

Plans were discussed for possible purchase of new playground equipment and an inventory is being made to determine what equipment is now on hand. Members of the commission said the equipment would be purchased by donations from various service clubs and organizations. They reported one service club already had offered to contribute up to $500 for the playground fund.

Members of the recreation commission are Robert T. Mason, president; Frank C. Robinson, treasurer; J. D. Torrance, secretary, W. Leonard Young and Morris Elperin. As set up, the commission consists of two members of the school board, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Torrance, two members of the city park board, Mr. Mason and Mr. Young, and one member at large, Mr. Elperin.

Two Drivers Fined On Charges of Speeding

Two motorists were fined $15 and costs today in municipal court charges of speeding. Harley W. Cloes, 46, of Mansfield was cited on East Center street Wednesday at 6 p. m. Donald R. Dutt, 18, of near Marion was stopped on Delaware avenue Wednesday at 5:20 p. m.

Miss Vivian R. Garster of 480 Summit street pleaded not guilty today to a charge of reckless driving. Hearing was not set. She was cited on East Center street Wednesday at 9 p. m.

Y's Men Vote $50 To School Athletic Fund

The Y's Men's club made a donation of $50 to the St. Mary school athletic fund at a business meeting Wednesday night in the Y.M.C.A. A report was given on the Marion Prop Busters Model Airplane club, which is sponsored by the Y's Men's organization. A prize was won by John Uncapher and James Oram was a guest. Following the meeting, the members went to the Club Co-Ed to complete the redecorating.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. Adv.

Two Are Initiated By V.F.W. Auxiliary

Two candidates for membership were initiated and two applications were received at a meeting of the Auxiliary to Veterans Post No. 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Wednesday night in the club rooms. Mrs. Irma Wenninger of Bucyrus, Tenth district president, was present for inspection. Two new officers, Mrs. O. A. Ralston, secretary, and Miss Mary Alice Smith, color bearer, were installed by Mrs. Lucille Edington.

Plans were made for a district meeting to be held April 20 at Galion, and plans were also discussed for a department encampment in Columbus July 3-8. The captains and workers were listed for the poppy sale in May.

FUND SLASH TERMED DEATH FOR WAGNER ACT

Chairman Pleads for Restoration of $4,000,000.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 17 — Chairman Paul M. Herzog said today a proposed 50 per cent slash in funds for the national labor relations board would "virtually destroy" administration of the Wagner act during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The board already had a backlog of 5,307 undecided cases on March 1, he told members of a senate appropriations subcommittee, and the cut voted by the house would force dismissal of about 50 of the 738 staff members after June 30.

The house trimmed President Truman's $6,000,000 budget estimate for the board to slightly over $4,000,000. Herzog asked the senate to restore the full amount.

He said the board is so busy now that a contested Wagner act case filed today "could probably not be decided by the board until December, 1948, at the earliest."

Parking Meters Cause Crestline "Disturbance"

CRESTLINE, April 17—Parking meters which were installed here Monday and began operation Tuesday seem to be causing considerable disturbance. Cars are being parked in alleys and other various places where parking is prohibited and there has been some double parking, police report. According to authorities, many violation tickets have been given out. The meters were installed on a 90-day trial.

Two Talks Heard By Matinee Club

Mrs. Jack F. Smyth was the principal speaker at a Matinee club dinner meeting at Hotel Harding last night. Attendance, which included members' wives and guests, was approximately 95.

Mrs. Smyth told of the training activities at various harness horse training centers in he South. During the winter she and her husband, Dr. Smyth, visited Pinehurst, N. C., Aiken, S. C., and Macon, Ga. All are leading winter training centers.

Dr. Smyth then gave a talk on the part women are playing in harness racing. Several of the largest farms and breeding stables are owned by women, he said. To illustrate his point he pointed out that the Walnut Hall farm in Lexington, Ky., is owned by sisters-in-law, Mrs. Harkness Edwards and Mrs. Nichols and the Castleton Farm in Lexington by Mrs. James B. Johnson Jr.

Dr. Walter McClaskey gave an informal talk concerning his observations of harness racing.

The Matinee club is making plans for a race meet at the fairgrounds May 30. Only members of the club will be allowed to have entries and no purses will be put up. It will be open to the public.

Ohio State President Repudiates Professor

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 17—Activities of Walter C. O'Donnell, Ohio State university economics instructor and executive secretary of the Ohio Friends of the Public Schools, do not have the sanction of Dr. Howard L. Bevis, university president.

Bevis issued a statement today disavowing the 'use of a return address of a campus building and the name of the university' upon envelopes and letterheads of the OFPS. Such use, Bevis asserted, was "unauthorized." O'Donnell's actions were "not representative" of the university, Bevis added, but those of a "private individual."

Stolen Car Recovered By Upper Patrolman

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 17—Isaac Walton, recently appointed a patrolman on the Upper Sandusky police force, took a "postman's holiday," on his day off this week. He drove out to a woods near Crawford, north of here, for some target practice with his police revolver. Looking over the grounds for a safe place to shoot he discovered a locked auto parked in the brush 200 yards from the highway.

Walton called the Findlay station of the state highway patrol and Sheriff Ben Stansbery in Upper Sandusky. The car was identified as one stolen Tuesday in Findlay from Dr. Donald R. Brumley.

YUGOSLAVIA DEMANDS BIG SLICE OF AUSTRIA

Presents Arguments for Annexation of Territory to Big 4.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 17—The council of foreign ministers heard a demand today that a large slice of Austrian Carinthia be turned over to Yugoslavia in any peace settlement.

The four-power council's first morning session of this conference was addressed by Yugoslav Vice Premier Edvard Kardelj, who repeated his nation's previous charges that a third of the German army which fought in Yugoslavia was Austrian; that there were 80 Austrian generals in the German army and that an Austrian general commanded the air forces which bombed Belgrade at the war's start.

Austrian Foreign Minister Karl Gruber has insisted that his government never would sign a treaty ceding southern Carinthia. Gruber has American support, and the Yugoslavs are supported by Russia.

Two sessions of the council were scheduled for today, amid predictions that the day would show whether any prospect remained for completing the Austrian peace treaty here.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, April 17 — The services of experts who had marked success with new methods in saving the lives of many persons horribly burned in Boston's 1942 Cocoanut Grove night club disaster were offered today to stricken Texas City, Texas.

Doctors of the Boston city and Massachusetts General hospitals, headed by Dr. Charles C. Lund, stood ready to fly to that area if needed.

"We shall send anything or anyone they need," said Dr. James W. McNary, superintendent of City hospital.

Physicians of the two institutions teamed as lifesavers after the Cocoanut Grove holocaust which claimed nearly 500 lives.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"BUT her husband?" Dr Twitchell said with a rising inflection. "They seem to be so very close."

"They are," Philip Veritzen said "My son and his wife adore each other But they are two explosives which cannot be permitted near each other in a situation like this Please believe that what I said just now is the truth. Only Mrs Graham can save Mary. Don't you agree with me, Dicky—Charles?"

He turned to my husband and to my father, and they both nodded.

"Absolutely," they said as with one voice, and I felt myself tightening inside. If I were Mary's only hope, what a responsibility was mine!

Philip, himself, switched the tense train of thought to a side track.

"Is there anything more about Mary which needs to be said before the men come to put on the bars?" he asked, looking at Dr Twitchell.

"Nothing more," the physician answered.

"Then, Charles"—Philip looked at my father—"suppose we turn these proceedings over to you. The ten minutes you named—"

"You have a half minute more," my father said, looking at his wrist watch.

Will Reveal Problem

"I should have reminded you at the end of the time," he added, smiling. "Now, if you will all sit close to me, I shall try to tell you as simply and quickly as possible what particular problem we are facing"

Something in his voice made my nerve ends tingle again with the old thrill of intrigue and combat, and I tensed myself to listen

"Ever since the war ended," my father began, "you have heard all sorts of stories of how the leading figures in the Third Reich did not die, and how they are all gathered together somewhere in South America, just marking time until the old nefarious business can begin all over again

Fantastic Rumors

"You have heard that Hitler and Eva Braun did not die, that faithful stooges died in their stead, while the Fuehrer and his wife escaped by airplane You have heard that defendants in the famous trial were all doubles, and that the real criminals had escaped long before You have heard probably that the High Court knew these facts, but insisted upon the trials for effect

"Nothing has been too fantastic for the rumor-mongers to voice, and stories like the ones I have just related have been disproved.

"But," he went on with slow emphasis, "not all the war criminals were captured or killed. The men of the Allied secret services have pooled their efforts ever since to find them Just recently, some of our own efforts have been signally rewarded," he said. "Reports have reached us that a mysterious group of men in a certain South American country are making experiments along a line which cannot be permitted.

Have Dropped Clues

"Investigation has shown that some of these men inadvertently have dropped clues which identify them as certain powerful figures of the Third Reich who were not captured. Yet there is not the slightest facial resemblance in any of them to those once powerful men. I think you probably can give me an answer to that, Dr. Twitchell"

The old physician pulled at his upper lip for an instant.

"Plastic surgery," he then said.

"Exactly," my father responded "And that by the way is why I wished to see you tonight."

Dr. Twitchell looked thoroughly puzzled.

Farm Products Futures Doing Booming Business

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 16—The nation's farm products futures markets are staging a business boom this spring which promises to outdo even spectacular 1929 dollar volume.

Figures released by the commodity exchange authority (CEA), today show that transactions in Grain, cotton, wool, eggs, butter, lard, potato and mill feed futures reached a rate in March which, if maintained, would total perhaps more than $45,000,000,000 in 1947.

Such transactions in 1929 amounted to about $43,000,000,000 compared with only $16,828,505,000 in the fiscal year ended last June 30—the latest for which final official figures are available

As the name implies, future transactions involve dealings in products to be delivered at a specified future date at a set price.
